Klumppp Move For New Trial Slated Today

Judge May Set Death Date Instead for Convicted Slayer

CINCINNATI (AP) — Edythe Klump today resumes her fight in Hamilton County Criminal Court to escape death in Ohio's electric chair.

The 41-year-old blonde divorcee and mother of four was convicted July 2 of first-degree murder in the slaying of Mrs. Louise Bergen, 32, her lover's estranged wife. The jury failed to recommend mercy which made the death sentence mandatory.

However, her attorney, William F. Hopkins, immediately filed a motion for a new trial and that was to be argued today before Judge Frank M. Gusweiler.

If the judge turns down the motion immediately he is expected to sentence Mrs. Klump at once. There would be a delay in the sentencing if he takes the motion under advisement.

Any execution date set by Judge Gusweiler would be only tentative, however, because Hopkins has said he will appeal the conviction if the new trial is denied. An appeal would mean stays of execution until the higher courts rule in the case.

Hopkins based his new trial motion on claims the verdict was contrary to the weight of the evidence; that the court erred in overruling his motions to dismiss the case during the trial; that there was misconduct on the part of a juror and that there was prejudicial and inflammatory argument by prosecutor C. Watson Hover and his aides.

Mrs. Klump was convicted of having shot Mrs. Bergen to death last Oct. 30 in a meeting on a secluded park street. She admitted she kept the body in her automobile over night and then burned it the next day on the shore of Lake Cowan in Clinton County.

She contended, however, the shooting was an accident. She testified Mrs. Bergen pointed the gun at her and that it was discharged as they fought for possession of it.

Mrs. Bergen's husband, William, had been living with Mrs. Klump as man and wife for about five months. The state claimed Mrs. Klump feared Bergen was going to return to his wife and that she also needed his financial support to save her home from auction.

The gun belonged to Bergen and was in Mrs. Klump's car. She declared, however, she had used it for target shooting and forgotten to take it out of the automobile.

Mrs. Klump, twice divorced, was a part time sewing teacher and also operated a day boarding home for children.

Residents Block Roaring Hotrod

CLEVELAND (AP)—Angry residents of Westlake took matters in their own hands Thursday night and set up road blocks.

Object of their ire was a hot rodder who had buzzed around and around the suburb in high-speed turns with mufflers howling.

Westlake councilman Wallace J. Mayer and two other residents of the area set out to catch the hot rodder. Road blocks were set up at both ends of Dover Center Road.

Police arrived a short while later and finally grounded the hot rodder, identified as Joseph Dukich, 21, of (1016 Lake Breeze Rd.) Lorain.

Dukich was charged with driving without license plates or a driver's license, operating an unsafe vehicle and with three counts of reckless driving.

He also is charged with failing to provide promised security for articles purchased from Coner Leach, Circleville. Joseph Bishop, 19, and Guy Edward Whaley, 22, both of Columbus, are charged with breaking and entering an uninhabited dwelling during the night season and grand larceny.

They are accused of burglarizing the Wendell Spradlin residence, Route 3, and taking a box containing assorted jewelry and rings valued at $70.

Lawrence Byrd, 43, 697 E. Mount St., was bound to the Grand Jury under $10,000 bond for the charge of rape. The complaint against Byrd was filed by a 20-year-old girl.

DEPUTY SHERIFF Radcliff said the man admitted the charge and reported that Byrd had attacked the girl repeatedly over a nine-year period. Byrd admitted only one assault.

Robert C. Arbaugh, 42, Chillicothe, is charged with issuing a check with insufficient funds. He was apprehended by the Ross County Sheriffs Department after a six-month search.

He pleaded guilty in Circleville Municipal Court to issuing a $20 check to the local A&P Store on the Adelphi Banking Co. where he had insufficient funds. According to R. C. Kifer, manager of the A&P Store, Arbaugh wrote the check on Sept. 22, 1958.

Harry Owens, 43, Pataskala, is charged with forgery. He has admitted writing bad checks totaling $2,580.90 in Pickaway, Wyandot, Wayne and Delaware Counties.

According to Sheriff Charles Radcliff, Owens admitted attending farm sales and buying trucks, junk and equipment, as well as livestock, and then paying for them with bad checks.

George W. Hutchison, 24, Route 4, is charged with issuing checks with no account. The affidavit against him, filed by Warden Skinner, owner of Ward's Market, S. Court St., charges Hutchison with making, drawing, uttering and delivering a check on a local bank where he had no account or credit.

DEPUTY SHERIFFS Robert Hoover and John Wolford said Hutchison also faces charges of passing 16 bad checks in Fairfield County and approximately 11 others here.

Steel Strike Talks Still Dragging On

NEW YORK (AP) — The steel strike deadlocked dragged on today after a top-level conference among industry and union negotiators and Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Teams representing the union and the 12 largest steel companies continued their talks here today.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator and executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp., and David J. McDonald, president of the striking United Steelworkers of America, held a joint meeting with Finnegan Thursday.

The session was McDonald's first discussion with an industry official since Aug. 7. He has stayed away from the negotiations since that time on the ground that they were getting nowhere.

Finnegan said McDonald and Cooper may meet here again next Monday.

McDonald left here late Thursday for Pittsburgh where, a spokesman said, he had union business to transact.

Finnegan would not reveal to newsmen the trend of the Cooper-McDonald talk. But he said that Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell's report on the steel strike did not figure in the conversation or in the meeting of the negotiating teams.

Mitchell, President Eisenhower's fact-finder in the strike, made public on Wednesday night a lengthy report containing economic data on the steel industry.

Living Costs Climb to New Record High

Food Tags Set Pace For Increase; Many To Get Wage Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living rose three-tenths of 1 per cent in July to another record high, the government reported today.

The Labor Department said higher prices for all major classes of goods and services contributed to the advance, with food prices leading the way.

The consumer price index for July was 124.9 per cent of the 1947-49 average, eight-tenths of 1 per cent higher than in July 1958.

The increase will mean wage boosts to about one million workers primarily in the automobile, farm equipment and aircraft industries.

Hersey C. Riley, chief of the department's division of prices and cost of living, said most of the effected workers will receive a quarterly raise of 2 cents an hour.

He said this is the first increase for automobile workers since last July.

Riley said the increase from June to July was "pretty much a result of seasonal factors. Only twice since 1941 have food prices declined in July and the average increased for that month is five-tenths of 1 per cent."

Food prices increased four-tenths of 1 per cent over the month this year. The cost of eggs went up 18 per cent, much more than usual for the season.

An advance in beef and poultry prices offset some declines in fresh fruits and vegetables.

"We are quite certain from what we see now that food prices will drop in August, but we can't tell just how that will affect the entire cost of living index," Riley said.

He said about one-quarter of the total increase in the cost of living this month could be attributed to local tax increases such as those on cigarettes and restaurant meals, and state sales taxes in Illinois and Arizona.

Riley also announced that the spendable earnings of factory workers and the buying power of those earnings dropped in July.

He said the decreases resulted from the usual summer drop in the work week due to vacations and other such factors, and to a lesser extent from the work stoppage in the steel industry in mid-July.

With the exception of fruits and vegetables, down 2.8 per cent, and new automobiles, off seven-tenths of 1 per cent, prices all along the line rose during July. The increases included: Restaurant meals one half of 1 per cent, housing one-tenth of 1 per cent, reading and recreation eight-tenths of 1 per cent, transportation three-tenths of 1 per cent, clothing two-tenths of 1 per cent, medical care three-tenths of 1 per cent, and personal care two-tenths of 1 per cent.

Top Roman Catholic Prelate Ordered Arrested in Haiti

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)

—Haiti's government has ordered the arrest of the nation's leading Roman Catholic prelate in a widening split with the church in this predominantly Catholic Negro republic.

The archbishop of Port au Prince, Msgr. Francois Poirier, was ordered seized after he ignored a summons to appear at the district attorney's office.

There was no immediate indication whether the archbishop, a French national, had been found and taken into custody. Church sources declined to comment.

A justice department spokesman said the arrest was ordered because the archbishop had criticized the government for expelling two priests. One was the head of Haiti's largest Catholic college.

(A high Vatican source said Haitian government leaders who are Catholics might incur automatic excommunication from the church if Archbishop Poirier is arrested "without good reason.")

The two priests, the Rev. Etienne Grinenberger, rector of Saint Martial College and Superior of the Holy Ghost Fathers in Haiti, and the Rev. Joseph Marrec, both French citizens, arrived by plane in New York Thursday night. They said the government was apparently waging a concerted campaign against the Catholic church in Haiti.

President Francois Duvalier had personally ordered the two priests kicked out of the country "for reasons of internal security." Father Grinenberger said he and Father Marrec were not given any official explanation for their expulsion but he learned they were accused of being involved in a bombing plot. He gave no further details.

Duvalier's clash with the church heightened as government troops were reported to have killed or captured a band of about 40 revolutionaries who invaded the southwest coast a week ago. The invaders were believed to have come from Cuba.

Senate OKs Military Fund For Buildings

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate gave speedy, unanimous approval today to a $1,428,178,700 bill providing funds to build armories, aircraft shops and hundreds of military construction projects in this country and overseas.

Passage was on an 89-0 vote. Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss), floor manager for the second big defense money bill, said each of the projects was "essential to the maintenance of our military strength at home and abroad."

He won unanimous approval of addition of $143,176,000 to the funds previously voted by the House, including 86 additional National Guard projects in 30 different states. They will cost some 13 million dollars more than the budget recommendations for the current fiscal year.

Even so, Stennis noted the total still was more than 135 million dollars under President Eisenhower's budget requests of $1,563,200,000.

There were no Senate opposition speeches or efforts to trim down any of the many additions made by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

The bulky measure now goes back to the House with a Senate-House conference committee expected to iron out differences over the Senate increases later.

For Ohio, the Senate group made the following changes in the House-passed bill (House figures in parentheses):

Army—Columbus General Depot (nothing) $2,783,000. Air Force—Clinton County AFB, ($1,052,000) $2,252,000. Wright-Patterson AFB, Dayton, ($9,227,000) $14,227,000.

A $135,000 Army National Guard project at Caldwell was added by the Senate committee. It also recommended $1,200,000 for the hospital at Clinton County AFB, for which the House had voted no money.

Fecundity On the Farm

Larry Sykes, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sykes, Route 1, Stoutsville, ought to stay in farming. He's unusually lucky that way.

About a month ago his cow gave birth to twin heifer calves. Yesterday his sow gave birth to 17 pigs.

Red China Warns UN To Stay Out of Laos

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China warned today that "serious consequences" will follow if United Nations observers are sent to Laos, where Red insurgents have been battling government troops. The government charged that the rebels were being armed, trained and directed by Communist North Viet Nam, which borders Laos on the northeast.

Island Group Is Welcomed By President

U.S. Population Is Hiked 585,000 By Proclamation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hawaii, a group of volcanic and coral islands 2,400 miles west of San Francisco, officially joins the Union today as the nation's 50th state.

President Eisenhower arranged an official ceremony at the White House to proclaim statehood for the territory after a 56-year effort by Hawaiian citizens, now numbering 585,000.

Besides signing the statehood proclamation today, the President issues an order designating a new 50-star flag to become officially effective next July 4.

The new banner will take the place of the 49-star flag which became official only last July 4. The 49-star emblem, to provide for Alaska, has a blue field of seven staggered rows of seven stars each. It supplanted the 47-year old, 48-star flag which had six even rows of eight stars each.

Soon after the Hawaiian proclamation, the government will put on sale a special 7-cent air mail stamp commemorating the event.

The signing also will be the signal for Gov. William F. Quinn, a Republican elected as the state's first governor last July 28, to take the oath in Honolulu, capital of the new state.

Quinn will then notify Washington of his certification of the election last month of Hawaii's first congressional delegation in time for the two senators and one representative to take their oaths here Monday.

The two senators are Hiram L. Fong, 52-year-old Republican of Chinese descent, and Oren E. Long, 70-year-old Democrat and former territorial governor. The House member is Daniel K. Inouye, 34-year-old Democrat of Japanese parentage who lost an arm fighting with the 442nd Central Postal Directory in Italy in World War II.

But this was the day that Hawaiians have been awaiting since they first petitioned Congress 56 years for admission as a state.

President Eisenhower's proclamation turning the dream into a reality meant the end of 59 years of territorial status for the multiracial Pacific island chain.

It meant that the people will be able to vote for president of the United States. Its delegation to Congress will be able to vote instead of merely observe.

Now, too, the Hawaiians choose their own governor, hitherto appointed by the president.

Statehood will mean fiscal as well as political changes for Hawaii.

Hawaii will gain about $800,000 a year under federal grants-in-aid programs. The increase will result from contemplated legislation designed to treat Hawaii on an equal basis with the rest of the American states. But this will take time.

Fiscal experts say Hawaii's change from a territory to a state will cost each taxpayer 68 cents more a year.

Hawaiian statehood adds 585,000 people and 6,435 square miles to the Union. It will add 183,000 registered voters in the next presidential election.

Massillon Gets 3rd Police Chief

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Capt. Glenn Keller becomes acting chief of police today—the third chief the force has had in a month.

Keller will head the department until a permanent chief is named on the basis of civil service examinations. The examination is to be given Sept. 4.

He replaces Acting Chief John T. Pettit, who resigned effective Aug. 31, when he concludes 25 years of service. Capt. Pettit leaves the force today, when his vacation begins.

Former Chief Stanley Switzer quit July 24 under fire from Mayor Edgar L. Lash. Switzer's resignation came during a gambling cleanup conducted by a group of policemen working mostly on their own, without direction from their chief.

SHOULD HAVE KEPT TRAP SHUT — Mrs. Florence Hill, 67, swallowed a live mouse last Friday in her Denver home. She went to the hospital the next day and was sent home later. The next day, she was deluged with telephone calls and mail from persons wanting to know if it was true. Here she "gags" it up by getting ready to swallow a mousetrap. Yes, she says it was true.

Rockefeller Due in Norway For His Son's Wedding Rites

KRISTIANSAND, Norway (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller comes to Norway today for the wedding of his son Steven to Anne Marie Rasmussen and with his arrival the rosy atmosphere of romance turns even more political.

The New York governor was due late this afternoon with his two daughters, Mary and Ann Pierson. They left New York aboard a KLM airliner Thursday night.

Rockefeller, a potential candidate for the Republican presidential nomination next year, probably will be confronted with more questions about politics in the United States than love in the fairs.

Steven's mother, who arrived here Monday, has become a familiar figure. She took a tray and ate hamburgers in a local cafeteria Thursday. Later she went to a government liquor store, but clerks there said it was against the law to disclose what she bought.

Steven's two brothers, Michael and Rodman, and Rodman's wife, attracted another crowd when they arrived Thursday.

Thursday night the brothers and the other four ushers for the wedding — Jerry Rigg of Omaha, Neb., David Montgomery of Niagara Falls, N.Y., Harold Talbot of New York City and Robert Waldron of Rockford, Ill.—gave Steven the traditional bachelor's dinner at the local hotel.

Steel Strike Talks Still Dragging On

NEW YORK (AP) — The steel strike deadlocked dragged on today after a top-level conference among industry and union negotiators and Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Teams representing the union and the 12 largest steel companies continued their talks here today.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator and executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp., and David J. McDonald, president of the striking United Steelworkers of America, held a joint meeting with Finnegan Thursday.

The session was McDonald's first discussion with an industry official since Aug. 7. He has stayed away from the negotiations since that time on the ground that they were getting nowhere.

Finnegan said McDonald and Cooper may meet here again next Monday.

McDonald left here late Thursday for Pittsburgh where, a spokesman said, he had union business to transact.

Finnegan would not reveal to newsmen the trend of the Cooper-McDonald talk. But he said that Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell's report on the steel strike did not figure in the conversation or in the meeting of the negotiating teams.

Mitchell, President Eisenhower's fact-finder in the strike, made public on Wednesday night a lengthy report containing economic data on the steel industry.

Living Costs Climb to New, Record High

Food Tags Set Pace For Increase; Many To Get Wage Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living rose three-tenths of 1 per cent in July to another record high, the government reported today.

The Labor Department said higher prices for all major classes of goods and services contributed to the advance, with food prices leading the way.

The consumer price index for July was 124.9 per cent of the 1947-49 average, eight-tenths of 1 per cent higher than in July 1958.

The increase will mean wage boosts to about one million workers primarily in the automobile, farm equipment and aircraft industries.

Hersey C. Riley, chief of the department's division of prices and cost of living, said most of the effected workers will receive a quarterly raise of 2 cents an hour.

He said this is the first increase for automobile workers since last July.

Riley said the increase from June to July was "pretty much a result of seasonal factors. Only twice since 1941 have food prices declined in July and the average increased for that month is five-tenths of 1 per cent."

Food prices increased four-tenths of 1 per cent over the month this year. The cost of eggs went up 18 per cent, much more than usual for the season.

An advance in beef and poultry prices offset some declines in fresh fruits and vegetables.

"We are quite certain from what we see now that food prices will drop in August, but we can't tell just how that will affect the entire cost of living index," Riley said.

He said about one-quarter of the total increase in the cost of living this month could be attributed to local tax increases such as those on cigarettes and restaurant meals, and state sales taxes in Illinois and Arizona.

Riley also announced that the spendable earnings of factory workers and the buying power of those earnings dropped in July.

He said the decreases resulted from the usual summer drop in the work week due to vacations and other such factors, and to a lesser extent from the work stoppage in the steel industry in mid-July.

With the exception of fruits and vegetables, down 2.8 per cent, and new automobiles, off seven-tenths of 1 per cent, prices all along the line rose during July. The increases included: Restaurant meals one half of 1 per cent, housing one-tenth of 1 per cent, reading and recreation eight-tenths of 1 per cent, transportation three-tenths of 1 per cent, clothing two-tenths of 1 per cent, medical care three-tenths of 1 per cent, and personal care two-tenths of 1 per cent.

Top Roman Catholic Prelate Ordered Arrested in Haiti

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) —Haiti's government has ordered the arrest of the nation's leading Roman Catholic prelate in a widening split with the church in this predominantly Catholic Negro republic.

The archbishop of Port Au Prince, Msgr. Francois Poirier, was ordered seized after he ignored a summons to appear at the district attorney's office. There was no immediate indication whether the archbishop, a French national, had been found and taken into custody. Church sources declined to comment.

A justice department spokesman said the arrest was ordered because the archbishop had criticized the government for expelling two priests. One was the head of Haiti's largest Catholic college. (A high Vatican source said Haitian government leaders who are Catholics might incur automatic excommunication from the church if Archbishop Poirier is arrested "without good reason.")

The two priests, the Rev. Etienne Grinenberger, rector of Saint Martial College and Superior of the Holy Ghost Fathers in Haiti, and the Rev. Joseph Marrec, both French citizens, arrived by plane in New York Thursday night. They said the government was apparently waging a concerted campaign against the Catholic church in Haiti.

President Francois Duvalier had personally ordered the two priests kicked out of the country "for reasons of internal security." Father Grinenberger said he and Father Marrec were not given any official explanation for their expulsion but he learned they were accused of being involved in a bombing plot. He gave no further details.

Duvalier's clash with the church heightened as government troops were reported to have killed or captured a band of about 40 revolutionaries who invaded the southwest coast a week ago. The invaders were believed to have come from Cuba.

Senate OKs Military Fund For Buildings

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate gave speedy, unanimous approval today to a $1,428,178,700 bill providing funds to build armories, aircraft shops and hundreds of military construction projects in this country and overseas.

Passage was on an 89-0 vote. Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss), floor manager for the second big defense money bill, said each of the projects was "essential to the maintenance of our military strength at home and abroad."

He won unanimous approval of addition of $143,176,000 to the funds previously voted by the House, including 86 additional National Guard projects in 30 different states. They will cost some 13 million dollars more than the budget recommendations for the current fiscal year.

Even so, Stennis noted the total still was more than 135 million dollars under President Eisenhower's budget requests of $1,563,200,000.

There were no Senate opposition speeches or efforts to trim down any of the many additions made by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

The bulky measure now goes back to the House with a Senate-House conference committee expected to iron out differences over the Senate increases later.

For Ohio, the Senate group made the following changes in the House-passed bill (House figures in parentheses):

Army—Columbus General Depot (nothing) $2,783,000. Air Force—Clinton County AFB, ($1,052,000) $2,252,000. Wright-Patterson AFB, Dayton, ($9,227,000) $14,227,000.

A $135,000 Army National Guard project at Caldwell was added by the Senate committee. It also recommended $1,200,000 for the hospital at Clinton County AFB, for which the House had voted no money.

Island Group Is Welcomed By President

U.S. Population Is Hiked 585,000 By Proclamation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hawaii, a group of volcanic and coral islands 2,400 miles west of San Francisco, officially joins the Union today as the nation's 50th state.

President Eisenhower arranged an official ceremony at the White House to proclaim statehood for the territory after a 56-year effort by Hawaiian citizens, now numbering 585,000.

Besides signing the statehood proclamation today, the President issues an order designating a new 50-star flag to become officially effective next July 4.

The new banner will take the place of the 49-star flag which became official only last July 4. The 49-star emblem, to provide for Alaska, has a blue field of seven staggered rows of seven stars each. It supplanted the 47-year old, 48-star flag which had six even rows of eight stars each.

Soon after the Hawaiian proclamation, the government will put on sale a special 7-cent air mail stamp commemorating the event.

The signing also will be the signal for Gov. William F. Quinn, a Republican elected as the state's first governor last July 28, to take the oath in Honolulu, capital of the new state.

Quinn will then notify Washington of his certification of the election last month of Hawaii's first congressional delegation in time for the two senators and one representative to take their oaths here Monday.

The two senators are Hiram L. Fong, 52-year-old Republican of Chinese descent, and Oren E. Long, 70-year-old Democrat and former territorial governor. The House member is Daniel K. Inouye, 34-year-old Democrat of Japanese parentage who lost an arm fighting with the 442nd Central Postal Directory in Italy in World War II.

But this was the day that Hawaiians have been awaiting since they first petitioned Congress 56 years for admission as a state.

President Eisenhower's proclamation turning the dream into a reality meant the end of 59 years of territorial status for the multiracial Pacific island chain.

It meant that the people will be able to vote for president of the United States its delegation to Congress will be able to vote instead of merely observe.

Now, too, the Hawaiians choose their own governor, hitherto appointed by the president.

Statehood will mean fiscal as well as political changes for Hawaii.

Hawaii will gain about $800,000 a year under federal grants-in-aid programs. The increase will result from contemplated legislation designed to treat Hawaii on an equal basis with the rest of the American states. But this will take time.

Fiscal experts say Hawaii's change from a territory to a state will cost each taxpayer 68 cents more a year.

Hawaiian statehood adds 585,000 people and 6,435 square miles to the Union. It will add 183,000 registered voters in the next presidential election.

Massillon Gets 3rd Police Chief

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Capt. Glenn Keller becomes acting chief of police today—the third chief the force has had in a month.

Keller will head the department until a permanent chief is named on the basis of civil service examinations. The examination is to be given Sept. 4.

He replaces Acting Chief John T. Pettit, who resigned effective Aug. 31, when he concludes 25 years of service. Capt. Pettit leaves the force today, when his vacation begins.

Former Chief Stanley Switzer quit July 24 under fire from Mayor Edgar L. Lash. Switzer's resignation came during a gambling cleanup conducted by a group of policemen working mostly on their own, without direction from their chief.

Rockefeller Due in Norway For His Son's Wedding Rites

KRISTIANSAND, Norway (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller comes to Norway today for the wedding of his son Steven to Anne Marie Rasmussen and with the arrival the rosy atmosphere of romance turns even more political.

The New York governor was due late this afternoon with his two daughters, Mary and Ann Pierson. They left New York aboard a KLM airliner Thursday night.

Rockefeller, a potential candidate for the Republican presidential nomination next year, probably will be confronted with more questions about politics in the United States than love in the fairs.

Steven himself said Thursday his father's position in the American political picture is the reason for the great attention his romance is receiving. Nearly 100 reporters and photographers from a dozen nations have swarmed into this little south Norway town to cover the wedding Saturday.

To many Norwegians the excitement doesn't stem from the fact that the 23-year-old bridegroom is an heir to one of the greatest fortunes in the world or that the 21-year-old bride was a maid in the Rockefeller home when she met Steven.

When Steven and Anne Marie announced their engagement Aug. 2, a Norwegian newspaper editorialized that "the people on the south coast of Norway will follow next year's nomination and presidential election in the United States with special interest."

A number of European newsmen here think the engagement furor, the disappearance of Steven and Anne Marie with her parents for a week of private travel, and all the fanfare attending the wedding were carefully planned to give the governor publicity as a presidential possibility.

Meanwhile, crowds gather daily in front of the Kristiansand hotel whenever another member of the Rockefeller family flies in.

Steven's mother, who arrived here Monday, has become a familiar figure. She took a tray and ate hamburgers in a local cafeteria Thursday. Later she went to a government liquor store, but clerks there said it was against the law to disclose what she bought.

Steven's two brothers, Michael and Rodman, and Rodman's wife, attracted another crowd when they arrived Thursday.

Thursday night the brothers and the other four ushers for the wedding — Jerry Rigg of Omaha, Neb., David Montgomery of Niagara Falls, N.Y., Harold Talbot of New York City and Robert Waldron of Rockford, Ill.—gave Steven the traditional bachelor's dinner at the local hotel.

Stock Mart
Holds Steady
After Upsurge

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market stood pat early this afternoon following Thursday's sharp upsurge. Trading moved at a moderate tempo.

Gains and losses stacked up about evenly as leading shares seasawed within a narrow range.

The market failed to follow through on Thursday's dazzling advance, the biggest since Nov. 27, 1957.

Steels and rails, pacesetters of Thursday's rally, generally gave ground. Oils also eased.

Some motors, electronics and chemicals, though, managed to eke out gains. Rubbers, metals, aircrafts, airlines and drugs were mixed.

Lukens hardest hit among the steels, sagged around 2.

Southern Pacific, which led Thursday's rail rally, tumbled more than 1. Southern Railway sank about 2.

Electronics ticked out some smart gains. Texas Instruments ran ahead about 2 1/2 and Zenith about 1 1/2.

Goodyear fell about 2.

At noon The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was 10 cents lower at $230.20 with the industrials down 20 cents, the rails down 30 cents and the utilities up 10 cents.

Government bonds slumped slightly.

Quake Area
Is Patrolled
By Guardsmen

WEST YELLOWSTONE PARK, Mont. (AP)—National Guardsmen moved into this earthquake-ravaged area today to prevent possible looting.

The quakes' death toll, meanwhile, reached nine. Mrs. Ray Painter, 42, of Ogden, Utah died Thursday in a Bozeman, Mont., hospital. She was hurt when the quake split a mountain and sent it thundering down on Rock Creek campground and into the Madison River.

Search officials fear other campers may be entombed in that massive landslide. Army engineers are expected to determine soon whether to attempt to move the 50 million tons of rock, earth and debris.

In addition to the known victims, Mrs. Thomas Stowe of Sandy, Utah, is missing and presumed dead. Her husband was killed.

The Guardsmen replaced Idaho and Wyoming state patrolmen who joined others from Montana in rescue operations during the chaos that followed the multiple earth shocks of Monday night and Tuesday.

Lesser jolts continued in the area Thursday. The U.S. Geodetic Survey counted 372 aftershocks. The aftershocks, rain and the threat of new landslides has delayed groups searching for possible other victims.

Hundreds of campers and vacationers evacuated from the stricken area were listed by name and home town with the Red Cross and other agencies.

Stock Mart Holds Steady After Upsurge

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market stood pat early this afternoon following Thursday's sharp upsurge. Trading moved at a moderate tempo.

Gains and losses stacked up about evenly as leading shares seasawed within a narrow range. The market failed to follow through on Thursday's dazzling advance, the biggest since Nov. 27, 1957.

Steels and rails, pacesetters of Thursday's rally, generally gave ground. Oils also eased.

Some motors, electronics and chemicals, though, managed to eke out gains. Rubbers, metals, aircrafts, airlines and drugs were mixed.

Luxuries hardest hit among the steels, sagged around 2.

Southern Pacific, which led Thursday's rail rally, tumbled more than 1. Southern Railway sank about 2.

Electronics ticked out some smart gains. Texas Instruments ran ahead about 2½ and Zenith about 1½.

Goodyear fell about 2.

At noon The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was 10 cents lower at $230.20 with the industrials down 20 cents, the rails down 30 cents and the utilities up 10 cents.

Government bonds slumped slightly.

Trio Is Charged For Intoxication

Two men and a woman were arrested here last night by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department on charges of intoxication.

The three were charged in Circleville Municipal Court by Deputy Robert Hoover. Each was fined $25 and costs.

The accusations were filed against Vada Rieky, Route 3, Mt. Sterling, Gerald Remy, Route 5, Washington C. H. and James D. Williams, Route 2, New Holland.

Deputy Hoover said Remy and Williams were found in a car which was parked on the highway near here. The woman was lying unconscious on the road, he said. Hoover said a case of beer was in the car. The woman was taken to Berger Hospital.

False Arrest Brings Lawsuit

NEW YORK (AP)—Seymour Kroll, a married Brooklyn man—mistaken for the missing husband in an abandonment case—is claiming a million dollars damages from New York City on the ground of false arrest.

The city has 30 days to settle or reject the claim. If it is rejected, Kroll can sue in State Supreme Court.

Kroll was arrested Aug. 9 on a fugitive warrant for a Seymour Kroll who had abandoned his wife and four children in Utica, N.Y. The warrant had been obtained by Utica police. Kroll was held in jail overnight.

Last Friday, Mrs. Seymour Kroll of Utica faced the Brooklyn Seymour Kroll in Felony Court and said he was not her missing husband. The charge against Kroll was dismissed.

Quake Area Is Patrolled By Guardsmen

WEST YELLOWSTONE PARK, Mont. (AP)—National Guardsmen moved into this earthquake-ravaged area today to prevent possible looting.

The quakes' death toll, meanwhile, reached nine. Mrs. Ray Painter, 42, of Ogden, Utah died Thursday in a Bozeman, Mont., hospital. She was hurt when the quake split a mountain and sent it thundering down on Rock Creek campground and into the Madison River.

Search officials fear other campers may be entombed in that massive landslide. Army engineers are expected to determine soon whether to attempt to move the 50 million tons of rock, earth and debris.

In addition to the known victims, Mrs. Thomas Stowe of Sandy, Utah, is missing and presumed dead. Her husband was killed.

The Guardsmen replaced Idaho and Wyoming state patrolmen who joined others from Montana in rescue operations during the chaos that followed the multiple earth shocks of Monday night and Tuesday.

Lesser jolts continued in the area Thursday. The U.S. Geodetic Survey counted 372 aftershocks.

The aftershocks, rain and the threat of new landslides has delayed groups searching for possible other victims.

Hundreds of campers and vacationers evacuated from the stricken area were listed by name and home town with the Red Cross and other agencies.

Will Showdown In U.S. Come On Labor Day?

Both Management,
Unions Gird for
Crucial Battle

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Both management and labor are wondering today if this year's observance of Labor Day may coincide with a major showdown.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell's background report on the steel strike points to it. The report confines itself to statistics rather than issues. But the issues show through.

Both management and labor stress that the issues in the steel strike are fundamental, rather than just dollar and cents ones as in the past.

A similar type of strike is spreading through the copper industry.

Meat packers and their workers are reported split over the same issues with a strike possible around Labor Day.

Others outside the industries directly involved, but themselves affected by the results as primary customers or ultimate consumers or as union members in other industries, also are taking sides.

Labor's position, perhaps oversimplified, is that today's high and often record profits can absorb another increase in wage scales without any need for another price rise; and management's demand for a return to greater say-so in conducting plant operations is an effort to break the unions and restore old objectionable practices.

Management's position is that price inflation has to be stopped some time and the way to do it is to hold the present wage and price line; and more management control over operations would raise productivity and lower operational costs.

Productivity thus becomes a key issue. It means the amount of goods or services turned out per man hour. Mechanization and automation has tended to raise this sharply in late years — although mechanization can be a costly thing in itself.

Working against more productivity, management says, are feather-bedding and other practices that slow production and add to costs.

On this issue management and labor seem to be at opposite poles. The chance of a major showdown this year seems to lie here more than in wage scales themselves.

The Mitchell report on the steel industry says that since 1940 the output per man hour has increased by about 74 per cent. The average annual increase in the 1947-57 period was 3 per cent, while for the economy as a whole it was 3.7 per cent, and for manufacturing alone 3.1 per cent.

Steel management stresses that to achieve this increased productivity it has raised its capital investment per production worker from $9,000 in 1947 to $20,000 in 1957.

It argues that this great capital

Great Day Comes: Pat Boone Has His First Screen Kiss

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Pat Boone had his first screen kiss and came through unharmed. This will reassure Boone fans who worried since Pat announced he would consent to the film love-making. He was kissless in his first three pictures.

I kept in touch with 20th Century-Fox for a month, waiting for Pat's kissing hour. Finally, the word came: "Pat is going to be kissed!" I sped to the studio and arrived just in time on the set of "Journey to the Center of the Earth." Pat was already embracing his co-star, Diane Baker. Some romance! The pair was supposed to be alone in a 19th century library. There were at least 50 fellow workers watching them on the set. Pat and Diane had dialogue aplenty to remember, plus where they were supposed to stand and even how they were to kiss.

"Kiss her with your nose to the left of Diane's," Director Henry Levin instructed Pat. "We want to see your eyes."

There was a hurried conference between Levin and Producer Charles Brackett. It was decided that Pat could eliminate the line he was to utter before the kiss: "If I may be so bold—"

Finally, Levin gave the signal to commence: "Roll 'em." Pat and Diane rushed into the library, declared their love and kissed. Three takes were required before the director announced "print!"

How did the kiss feel to the participants? "Great," said Diane. But she quickly added: "It would be ridiculous to confuse your own personal feelings with the roles you play."

"The kiss was fine," said Pat. He added: "Of course, there's no reason it should affect me any more than the other things I have done with Diane in the picture, like holding her hand. It's just a matter of degree."

What about his wife's reaction? She had agreed to the kiss, but didn't know when it was happening.

"Every morning she'd ask me what I was doing that day," he said, "and I'd tell her I was running through a salt mine or getting shot at. This morning I told her I didn't know what the scene would be, and I didn't."

He paused a moment and commented: "You know, this is a lot more fun than running through a salt mine or getting shot at."

34 Dixie Girls Cop Top Honors in Majorette Test

LAKEVIEW, Ohio (AP)—South-erners took over here Wednesday night as four of Dixie lasses topped top honors in the ninth annual Majorette Contest.

Two Hartsville, S. C., misses, Mary Brown, 14, and Karen Crouch, 11, won the junior (age 12-14) and juvenile (age 9-11) classes respectively.

Mary Ruth Newman, 20, of Chattanooga, Tenn., won the senior championship. Gail Ann Jay, 8, El Paso, Tex., was awarded the novice (age 4-8) honors.

Ohioans finishing high Wednesday were Virginia Holzmans of North Olmstead, fifth in the seniors; Jane Fender of Greenville, fourth in the juniors, and Valeria Eichler of Parma, fifth in the novices.

Teays Valley Enrollment Near 1,800

Teays Valley School District officials expect approximately 1,800 pupils to enroll in district schools in the fall, according to registration figures compiled in June.

This will be an increase of 150 pupils over last fall when 1,740 students enrolled. This calls for five additional teachers and five more rooms.

The rooms are available according to a recent statement by district executive head, Earl R. Gregg, but this increase fills every available room in the district.

Grade school enrollment by class found: 218 first graders; 216, second; 179 third; 161 fourth; 169 fifth; 184 sixth; 158 seventh, and 150 eighth.

High school enrollments by Teays Valley school are: 357, Ashville; 169, Duvall; 70, South Bloomfield; 372, Walnut; 101, Madison, and 366, Scioto, for a total of 1,435.

High school enrollments by class

are: freshmen, 118; sophomores, 109; juniors, 109, and seniors, 119, for a total of 455.

High school enrollment by district school is 208, Ashville; 136, Walnut, and Scioto, 111.

Teays Valley conducted a school enumeration of all children six years of age and under. The report shows 192 six-year-olds; 193, five; 225, four; 231, three; 260, two; 270, one, and 221 of 0 to nine months old. The discrepancy between the number of first graders expected in September, 1959 and the number of six-year-olds of 1959 is because of the 16 1958-59 first grade failures and an estimate that only 10 of the 33 children taking the readiness test this month will be ready for the first grade this fall.

The readiness test is for all children who will be six-years-of-age after September 1 and before November 1. The test will determine if they are ready for schooling or should wait another year.

Westfall May Have 1,632 In Schools

Westfall School District enumeration figures show 1,632 students will enroll in the district's schools in the fall, if all five-year-olds qualify.

This is 170 more pupils than were enrolled last year, calling for six additional rooms and five or six additional teachers.

The five-year-old enumeration figure will not be official until school officials determined if the children will be six years-of-age before or on the school opening date.

If the children turn six by the opening date, they will be admitted. Children turning six by November 1 will be admitted if they pass a readiness test, which is being held prior to schools opening.

ENUMERATION by ages are: 5-102; 6-148; 7-132; 8-147; 9-123; 10-147; 11-144; 12-139; 13-124; 14-105; 15-104; 16-117; 7-100.

A breakdown of the boys and girls in the five to 15 age bracket finds 711 boys and 704 girls. The boys outnumber the girls in the 16 and 17 age bracket, 111 to 106.

Westfall executive head, Judson Lanman, said the larger number of boys over girls is unusual.

investment makes it impossible to hold price lines if wages and other operational costs go up.

In this showdown building up between opposing management and labor views there is a third party—the public.

And public interest in this year's issues seems keener than in any other postwar period.

It is this interest which Mitchell stresses when he asks both sides to try harder for a settlement before the issues harden into a struggle that could rock the economy.

Will Showdown In U.S. Come On Labor Day?

Both Management,
Unions Gird for
Crucial Battle

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Both management and labor are wondering today if this year's observance of Labor Day may coincide with a major showdown.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell's background report on the steel strike points to it. The report confines itself to statistics rather than issues. But the issues show through.

Both management and labor stress that the issues in the steel strike are fundamental, rather than just dollar and cents ones as in the past.

A similar type of strike is spreading through the copper industry.

Meat packers and their workers are reported split over the same issues with a strike possible around Labor Day.

Others outside the industries directly involved, but themselves affected by the results as primary customers or ultimate consumers or as union members in other industries, also are taking sides.

Labor's position, perhaps oversimplified, is that today's high and often record profits can absorb another increase in wage scales without any need for another price rise; and management's demand for a return to greater say-so in conducting plant operations is an effort to break the unions and restore old objectionable practices.

Management's position is that price inflation has to be stopped some time and the way to do it is to hold the present wage and price line; and more management control over operations would raise productivity and lower operational costs.

Productivity thus becomes a key issue. It means the amount of goods or services turned out per man hour. Mechanization and automation has tended to raise this sharply in late years — although mechanization can be a costly thing in itself.

Working against more productivity, management says, are feather-bedding and other practices that slow production and add to costs.

On this issue management and labor seem to be at opposite poles. The chance of a major showdown this year seems to lie here more than in wage scales themselves.

The Mitchell report on the steel industry says that since 1940 the output per man hour has increased by about 74 per cent. The average annual increase in the 1947-57 period was 3 per cent, while for the economy as a whole it was 3.7 per cent, and for manufacturing alone 3.1 per cent.

Steel management stresses that to achieve this increased productivity it has raised its capital investment per production worker from $9,000 in 1947 to $20,000 in 1957.

It argues that this great capital

Great Day Comes: Pat Boone Has His First Screen Kiss

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Pat Boone had his first screen kiss and came through unharmed.

This will reassure Boone fans who worried since Pat announced he would consent to the film love-making. He was kissless in his first three pictures.

I kept in touch with 20th Century-Fox for a month, waiting for Pat's kissing hour. Finally, the word came: "Pat is going to be kissed!" I sped to the studio and arrived just in time on the set of "Journey to the Center of the Earth." Pat was already embracing his co-star, Diane Baker.

Some romance! The pair was supposed to be alone in a 19th century library. There were at least 50 fellow workers watching them on the set. Pat and Diane had dialogue aplenty to remember, plus where they were supposed to stand and even how they were to kiss.

"Kiss her with your nose to the left of Diane's," Director Henry Levin instructed Pat. "We want to see your eyes."

There was a hurried conference between Levin and Producer Charles Brackett. It was decided that Pat could eliminate the line he was to utter before the kiss: "If I may be so bold—"

Finally, Levin gave the signal to commence: "Roll 'em."

Pat and Diane rushed into the library, declared their love and kissed. Three takes were required before the director announced "print!"

How did the kiss feel to the participants? "Great," said Diane. But she quickly added: "It would be ridiculous to confuse your own personal feelings with the roles you play."

"The kiss was fine," said Pat. He added: "Of course, there's no reason it should affect me any more than the other things I have done with Diane in the picture, like holding her hand. It's just a matter of degree."

What about his wife's reaction? She had agreed to the kiss, but didn't know when it was happening.

"Every morning she'd ask me what I was doing that day," he said, "and I'd tell her I was running through a salt mine or getting shot at. This morning I told her I didn't know what the scene would be, and I didn't."

He paused a moment and commented: "You know, this is a lot more fun than running through a salt mine or getting shot at."

Teays Valley Enrollment Near 1,800

Teays Valley School District officials expect approximately 1,800 pupils to enroll in district schools in the fall, according to registration figures compiled in June.

This will be an increase of 150 pupils over last fall when 1,740 students enrolled. This calls for five additional teachers and five more rooms.

The rooms are available according to a recent statement by district executive head, Earl R. Gregg, but this increase fills every available room in the district.

Grade school enrollment by class found: 218 first graders; 216, second; 179 third; 161 fourth; 189 fifth; 184 sixth; 158 seventh, and 150 eighth.

GRADE SCHOOL enrollments by Teays Valley school are: 357, Ashville; 169, Duvall; 70, South Bloomfield; 372, Walnut; 101, Madison, and 366, Scioto, for a total of 1,435.

High school enrollments by class

are: freshmen, 118; sophomores, 109; juniors, 109, and seniors, 119, for a total of 455.

High school enrollment by district school is 208, Ashville; 136, Walnut, and Scioto, 111.

Teays Valley conducted a school enumeration of all children six years of age and under. The report shows 132 six-year-olds; 193, five; 225, four; 231, three; 260, two; 270, one, and 221 of 0 to nine months old.

The discrepancy between the number of first graders expected in September, 1959 and the number of six-year-olds of 1959 is because of the 16 1958-59 first grade failures and an estimate that only 10 of the 33 children taking the readiness test this month will be ready for the first grade this fall.

The readiness test is for all children who will be six-years-of-age after September 1 and before November 1. The test will determine if they are ready for schooling or should wait another year.

Steel Supply Diminishes Rapidly

Recent gains in virtually every sector of the U. S. economy and pre-strike reports of huge stockpiles may have fostered the erroneous belief that the nation could take a long steel strike in stride. Now as the walkout enters its sixth week this early optimism fades amid predictions in management and labor circles that the tie-up may be the longest in the industry's recent history.

The story now is that the steel stocks once piled high in warehouses are diminishing rapidly. Before long the warehouses, like the fabricators, will be faced by shortages.

Some manufacturers of pipe and other specialty products have been forced to shut down, and the makers of steel that goes into buildings will face serious difficulty if the strike should go beyond September 1. Besides the striking 500,000 steel workers, an estimated 107,000 employees in allied industries thus far have been made jobless because of steel shortages.

Neither management nor the union has shown the slightest inclination to retreat from its original position. Even if the dispute were settled today, it would take weeks to get the mills rolling again. Steel furnaces are complicated affairs, and the longer the strike lasts the more time will be needed to get into production.

The steel strike may be a good example of the American worker's freedom to strike for his demands — a right not enjoyed in Russia and her satellite nations. Nevertheless, Nikita Khrushchev, on his forthcoming visit, is likely to be more impressed by U. S. industrial might if he sees steel mills going full blast instead of standing idle.

Epic Films Outgrow Hollywood

NEW YORK (AP)—Is the film colossal getting too colossal for Hollywood?

Producer King Vidor, one of the last active survivors of the film colony's epic past, says yes. He feels the epic movie is now too big and costly for the Hollywood wallet.

"I doubt if ever again you can make spectacle movies in Hollywood which require the building of vast sets and 4,000 or 5,000-man casts," he said.

"It's impractical. Too expensive. Too many crippling rules and regulations," Vidor said.

"To shoot a crowd scene with 1,000 players would cost $20,000 a day in Hollywood. In Spain you could do it for around $1,000 a day."

Vidor recently returned from Spain where he spent two years and six million dollars making the biggest color spectacle of his career, "Solomon and Sheba." The death of Tyrone Power forced him to shoot a third of the film over, added a million dollars to the firm's budget.

Unlike such early giants of the industry as D. W. Griffith and Cecil B. De Mille, Vidor has never been an exponent of personal showmanship. But he has been one of the screen's most consistent experimenters.

Starting more than four decades ago as a ticket seller and newsreel operator, he learned the director's trade by turning out two-reelers. His first, which dealt with auto racing—Vidor was an early hot rodder himself—cost $500.

"And that's probably about what it took in at the boxoffice," he remarked wryly.

"The Big Parade," made in 1925 with John Gilbert as star, was one of the greatest sleepers in filmdom's history. "It cost only $245,000 to make, and the last I heard it had brought 16 or 18 million," Vidor said.

But the graying, mild-mannered producer isn't a man who believes in looking back.

"Everything is new," he said. "When I start a new project, I begin a whole new life. I don't believe in dwelling on what's behind you."

Vidor believes the answer to the epic costs of making film epics isn't to turn out fewer of them, but to turn out more of them abroad.

"We've got a big screen now, and we have to fill it up," he said. "Let people who like small themes and small screens watch television."

Showing Off America at Its Best

By George Sokolsky

Usually when guests of the nation come to this country, the State Department works out an itinerary which often includes the big and spectacular cities and such places as are of special interest to the visitor. There are dinners and luncheons and speeches are delivered. Obviously, the man who is guarded by secret police and FBI agents and the local police and who moves through the country in a storm of confetti learns very little about the American people, what they think, how they live, and what they really believe to be true.

The mass demonstration for Vice President Richard Nixon in Warsaw gave evidence of a spontaneous friendliness to an American, but neither Nixon nor anyone in his entourage sat down to a glass of tea with a few simple proletarian families, just as Khrushchev will not have occasion to do anything like that in this country.

Charles L. Dancy, editor of "The Peoria Journal Star," has made an interesting suggestion for Khrushchev's visit. He, of course, wants to have Khrushchev brought to Peoria. What, at least, could be done is to fly the Russian low from Pittsburgh to Cincinnati where he can see the greatest industrial complex in the world. He could be put down in the smaller cities of this area; it should be possible for him to visit homes. He might pick and choose so that he could not suspect that the show was set up for him.

He would find many Russian and Polish speaking people in these areas who could tell him of their lives in this country. He would find many whose ancestors were Ukrainians. He would discover how descendants of a great many races and nationalities manage to live and work together, retaining some of their inherited customs; but in the third generation, he will find that a new breed is emerging, an American breed, somewhat different from their sires but also different from what he might see in New York or Washington, in New Orleans or Chicago, in San Francisco or Los Angeles.

The Middle West like New England is the America he ought to see, in many respects more surprising than the larger cities.

There is no American type as there is no Russian type. Certainly a Kalmuck is different from a Georgian, as a Ukrainian is different from an Uzbek.

In the United States, these differences are more pronounced because here for about 300 years, races of man have been mixing in a veritable melting pot. In some areas, the basic stock was Anglo-Saxon; in others, it was French or Spanish.

There was no time, from the earliest settlements until today, when there was not an influx of Germanic peoples into this country. It is difficult to trace this kind of statistics, but there have been many German, Dutch, and Scandinavian migrants into the United States as Anglo-Saxon.

It is estimated that there are about 12,000,000 descendants of Italians. The Jews first arrived in 1653 and there have been Jewish immigrants ever since; also, Jews have since the earliest days been assimilated into the general population and have disappeared as Jews. That trend is impossible to study because of intermarriages and the Anglicization of names, but in certain areas, it must have been notably active.

All Russians have been led to believe that the Negroes are a brutally treated minority nationality without rights, practically enslaved. And if Khrushchev is taken to Harlem in New York City, he will be in the ugliest ghetto in the world where Negroes live in crowded tenements and are usually exploited by Negro and white politicians.

However, there are cities in the South and in the West where Negroes live comfortably and even advantageously because they are Negroes. It would be an act of patriotism for Negro labor leaders to establish to Khrushchev the fact of the equality of pay for identical work in cities like Detroit and Pittsburgh.

He should be taken to universities where he can see Negro boys and girls preparing for national leadership. The lies that have been told in Russia by American Communists need to be exploded. Perhaps Khrushchev can still learn something about the United States and the American people.

If we want to show off, this is the kind of showing off we need to do. If this visit is not for showing off purposes, what is it for? We need to establish the fact that here live some 50 races and nationalities of man in mutual interest without accentuation of differences, but with freedom to pursue their differences if they so desire.

We need to show him that in our freely demonstrated differences lie our strength.

CHARLES PETTIBONE is famous — and deeply admired — for his unique recipe for making pancakes. Here is his precious secret: "Whip up the pancakes just the way you always have. Then take the juice of one half lime, the juice of one half lemon, a generous jigger of bourbon, and one of maple syrup. Shake well with cracked ice, strain and decorate with fruit. This results in the finest whisky sour you have ever tasted. As for the pancakes... use them for pot-holders."

Thumb Sucking Is Harmful

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Many parents are more worried about why their youngster sucks his thumb than they are about the possible results of thumb-sucking.

So they consult their pediatricians and child psychiatrists to help them determine the cause of the problem.

That's fine as far as it goes. Certainly the "why" is extremely important in trying to cope with the situation.

But don't overlook the possible results of a long-standing habit of thumb-sucking.

Dr. Robert E. Hennessey of Clayton, Mo., recently reminded parents, in a television program, of the serious damage thumb-sucking can cause. Dr. Hennessey isn't a pediatrician or a child psychologist. He's a specialist in children's orthodontia, or corrective dentistry.

Although I didn't see the program, I understand Dr. Hennessey brought home a good point.

In the old days, he said, parents used to worry about buck teeth. Now they read articles saying that finger-sucking is just emotional insecurity or that thumb-suckers make better babies.

Many parents fail to realize it, yet the fact remains that thumb-sucking also is a dental problem.

The seemingly innocent habit of popping a thumb into the mouth can lead to abnormal breathing, malformation of the facial structure, possible speech defects and, of course, the emotional effects of an unattractive appearance.

Dr. Hennessey is able to produce several hundred photographs and models of children's mouths which were deformed directly as a result of prolonged finger or thumb-sucking.

Perhaps the automatic voluntary habit of thumb-sucking may not cause a pediatrician or psychiatrist too much concern, but problems can and do develop in many cases.

Dr. Hennessey suggests that the earlier corrective measures are taken, the better, although all cases do not require correction.

Up to the age of five, he says, such varied deterrents as sleeper

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The steel strike had been going on since July 15 and President Eisenhower and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell decided to do something about it, but in a very restrained way.

They hadn't taken sides. And they weren't taking sides now, although if the strike continues into late September the shortage of steel may create a national emergency.

The two men thought it might be worthwhile to give the public some facts and figures which various government agencies have gathered on steelworkers' earnings and productivity and on the steel industry's prices and profits.

The steel dispute really began early last May when negotiations started. But from the beginning both sides have dawdled in one of the most lackadaisical negotiations in American history.

And even now, with the strike costing 300 million dollars a week in production and 70 million dollars in wages, neither side shows a pressing anxiety to reach a settlement.

So just how laying down some facts and figures on wages and profits might hasten an agreement isn't at all clear. But Eisenhower and Mitchell decided to go ahead and make the figures public.

Mitchell announced Tuesday the government's figures would be unveiled at a news conference Wednesday afternoon.

As each reporter walked in he got a 42-page, brown-paper-covered booklet with masses of statistics and charts. The information it contained had been gathered from government agencies and some of it even from the steel industry itself.

The booklet had an explanatory foreword by Mitchell. In it he said: "There are no conclusions drawn in this booklet. The responsibility for a settlement of the strike rests upon management and labor in the industry."

If the President or Mitchell had drawn conclusions from the figures they produced, they would have been putting the heat on one side or the other in the dispute to get off the high horse.

But without such official conclusions, the result had to be every man for himself in deciding what the figures meant. The reporters realized this, of course, but were glad to see the government figures anyway.

But then they read elsewhere in Mitchell's foreword this statement: "Management and labor already know these facts."

One gray-haired reporter, who has been around Washington a long time and has never been easily impressed by the pronouncements of government officials, read that sentence from Mitchell's foreword to some of the reporters around him.

He said it reminded him of a couple of vaudeville comedians he saw once. One of them was lying on the stage, supposedly wounded in battle. The other said: "Tell me your name and I'll tell your mother."

But the one lying on the stage said: "You don't have to tell my mother. She knows my name."

This may have been a sardonic view of the situation after Eisenhower and Mitchell went to the trouble of gathering into one booklet a mass of information on steel profits and wages.

But it did point up the central question:

If the steel union and the steel industry know all these facts and after almost four months haven't made any progress toward a settlement, why should anyone think making the facts public will have any effect on either side?

Since the government isn't willing to go beyond saying "come on, boys, and get together," there is a pretty good chance there will be a steel strike for quit a while yet.

Miracle Miner, Family Plan New Life in Alabama City

SPRINGHILL, N. S. (AP) — Levi Milley, one of the miracle miners who escaped last October's cave-in after almost a week underground, leaves next week with his family to start a new life in Phenix City, Ala.

It's a remarkable chain of events that takes the 47-year-old Milley, his wife Velda and their daughter Judy, 18, away from their home and life-long friends.

Last November the Milleys accepted an invitation to vacation in Georgia with other survivors of the mine disaster. While there, a picture of blonde Judy appeared in a Georgia newspaper.

James Argroves, 22, of Columbus, was so interested in the picture that he wrote Judy in Springhill.

Meanwhile, the Milleys decided to break with mining.

"We'd thought about it for a long time," said Milley, a miner for 29 years. "The cave-in was the last straw. I knew I'd never go down again."

They liked the idea of going to the United States. "We only thought of the north, perhaps Massachusetts." But the American Consulate told them they needed a sponsor to get in.

Judy mentioned the problem to her Georgia pen pal. He inserted a notice about the family's plight in the Columbus newspaper. A construction firm president in Phenix City—across the Chattahoochee River from Columbus, wrote to the consulate in Halifax offering to sponsor the family.

The construction man—who requested that his name be kept secret—also offered Milley a job in his firm, plus plane tickets to Alabama and a rent-free, furnished house.

The Milleys are excited about meeting the new friends they have never seen.

"Just imagine what wonderful people they must be," Mrs. Milley said. "They've given us a whole new life—and they've never even met us."

Steel Supply Diminishes Rapidly

Recent gains in virtually every sector of the U. S. economy and pre-strike reports of huge stockpiles may have fostered the erroneous belief that the nation could take a long steel strike in stride. Now as the walkout enters its sixth week this early optimism fades amid predictions in management and labor circles that the tie-up may be the longest in the industry's recent history.

The story now is that the steel stocks once piled high in warehouses are diminishing rapidly. Before long the warehouses, like the fabricators, will be faced by shortages.

Some manufacturers of pipe and other specialty products have been forced to shut down, and the makers of steel that goes into buildings will face serious difficulty if the strike continues beyond September 1. Besides the striking 500,000 steel workers, an estimated 107,000 employees in allied industries thus far have been made jobless because of steel shortages.

Neither management nor the union has shown the slightest inclination to retreat from its original position. Even if the dispute were settled today, it would take weeks to get the mills rolling again. Steel furnaces are complicated affairs, and the longer the strike lasts the more time will be needed to get into production.

The steel strike may be a good example of the American worker's freedom to strike for his demands — a right not enjoyed in Russia and her satellite nations. Nevertheless, Nikita Khrushchev, on his forthcoming visit, is likely to be more impressed by U. S. industrial might if he sees steel mills going full blast instead of standing idle.

Epic Films Outgrow Hollywood

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Is the film colossal getting too colossal for Hollywood?

Producer King Vidor, one of the last active survivors of the film colony's epic past, says yes. He feels the epic movie is now too big and costly for the Hollywood wallet.

"I doubt if ever again you can make spectacle movies in Hollywood which require the building of vast sets and 4,000 or 5,000-man casts," he said.

"It's impractical. Too expensive. Too many crippling rules and regulations," Vidor said.

"To shoot a crowd scene with 1,000 players would cost $20,000 a day in Hollywood. In Spain you could do it for around $1,000 a day."

Vidor recently returned from Spain where he spent two years and six million dollars making the biggest color spectacle of his career, "Solomon and Sheba." The death of Tyrone Power forced him to shoot a third of the film over, added a million dollars to the film's budget.

Unlike such early giants of the industry as D. W. Griffith and Cecil B. De Mille, Vidor has never been an exponent of personal showmanship. But he has been one of the screen's most consistent experimenters.

Starting more than four decades ago as a ticket seller and newsreel operator, he learned the director's trade by turning out two-reelers. His first, which dealt with auto racing—Vidor was an early hot rodder himself—cost $500.

"And that's probably about what it took in at the boxoffice," he remarked wryly.

"The Big Parade," made in 1925 with John Gilbert as star, was one of the greatest sleepers in filmdom's history. "It cost only $245,000 to make, and the last I heard it had brought 16 or 18 million," Vidor said.

But the graying, mild-mannered producer isn't a man who believes in looking back.

"Everything is new," he said. "When I start a new project, I begin a whole new life. I don't believe in dwelling on what's behind you."

Vidor believes the answer to the epic costs of making film epics isn't to turn out fewer of them, but to turn out more of them abroad.

"We've got a big screen now, and we have to fill it up," he said. "Let people who like small themes and small screens watch television."

Showing Off America at Its Best

By George Sokolsky

Usually when guests of the nation come to this country, the State Department works out an itinerary which often includes the big and spectacular cities and such places as are of special interest to the visitor. There are dinners and luncheons and speeches are delivered. Obviously, the man who is guarded by secret police and FBI agents and the local police and who moves through the country in a storm of confetti learns very little about the American people, what they think, how they live, and what they really believe to be true.

The mass demonstration for Vice President Richard Nixon in Warsaw gave evidence of a spontaneous friendliness to an American, but neither Nixon nor anyone in his entourage sat down to a glass of tea with a few simple proletarian families, just as Khrushchev's visit. He, of course, wants to have Khrushchev brought to Peoria. What, at least, could be done is to fly the Russian low from Pittsburgh to Cincinnati where he can see the greatest industrial complex in the world. He could be put down in the smaller cities of this area; it should be possible for him to visit homes. He might pick and choose so that he could not suspect that the show was set up for him.

Charles L. Dancy, editor of "The Peoria Journal Star," has made an interesting suggestion for Khrushchev's visit. He, of course, wants to have Khrushchev brought to Peoria. What, at least, could be done is to fly the Russian low from Pittsburgh to Cincinnati where he can see the greatest industrial complex in the world. He could be put down in the smaller cities of this area; it should be possible for him to visit homes. He might pick and choose so that he could not suspect that the show was set up for him.

He would find many Russian and Polish speaking people in these areas who could tell him of their lives in this country. He would find many whose ancestors were Ukrainians. He would discover how descendants of a great many races and nationalities manage to live and work together, retaining some of their inherited customs; but in the third generation, he will find that a new breed is emerging, an American breed, somewhat different from their sires but also different from what he might see in New York or Washington, in New Orleans or Chicago, in San Francisco or Los Angeles.

The Middle West like New England is the America he ought to see, in many respects more surprising than the larger cities.

There is no American type as there is no Russian type. Certainly a Kalmuck is different from a Georgian, as a Ukrainian is different from a Uzbek.

In the United States, these differences are more pronounced because here for about 300 years, races of man have been mixing in a veritable melting pot. In some areas, the basic stock was Anglo-Saxon; in others, it was French or Spanish.

There was no time, from the earliest settlements until today, when there was not an influx of Germanic peoples into this country. It is difficult to trace this kind of statistics, but there have been as many German, Dutch, and Scandinavian migrants into the United States as Anglo-Saxon. It is estimated that there are about 12,000,000 descendants of Italians.

The Jews first arrived in 1653 and there have been Jewish immigrants ever since; also, Jews have since the earliest days been assimilated into the general population and have disappeared as Jews. That trend is impossible to study because of intermarriages and the Anglicization of names, but in certain areas, it must have been notably active.

All Russians have been led to believe that the Negroes are a brutally treated minority nationality without rights, practically enslaved. And if Khrushchev is taken to Harlem in New York City, he will be in the ugliest ghetto in the world where Negroes live in crowded tenements and are usually exploited by Negro and white politicians.

However, there are cities in the South and in the West where Negroes live comfortably and even advantageously because they are Negroes. It would be an act of patriotism for Negro labor leaders to establish to Khrushchev the fact of the equality of pay for identical work in cities like Detroit and Pittsburgh.

He should be taken to universities where he can see Negro boys and girls preparing for national leadership. The lies that have been told in Russia by American Communists need to be exploded. Perhaps Khrushchev can still learn something about the United States and the American people.

If we want to show off, this is the kind of showing off we need to do. If this visit is not for showing off purposes, what is it for? We need to establish the fact that here live some 50 races and nationalities of man in mutual interest without accentuation of differences, but with freedom to pursue their differences if they so desire.

We need to show him that in our freely demonstrated differences lie our strength.

By BENNETT CERF

CHARLES PETTIBONE is famous — and deeply admired — for his unique recipe for making pancakes. Here is his precious secret: "Whip up the pancakes just the way you always have. Then take the juice of one half lime, the juice of one half lemon, a generous jigger of bourbon, and one of maple syrup. Shake well with cracked ice, strain and decorate with fruit. This results in the finest whisky sour you have ever tasted. As for the pancakes . . . use them for pot-holders."

Mel Dodson, of Atlantic City, likes to ask the kids who wander into Convention Hall, "What's the difference between 'unlawful' and 'illegal'?" The answer, of course, is that "unlawful" means "against the law" and "illegal" is a sick bird.

Have you heard about the new cocktail called "The Ark"? It's for people who can't say Noah.

Thumb Sucking Is Harmful

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Many parents are more worried about why their youngster sucks his thumb than they are about the possible results of thumb-sucking.

So they consult their pediatricians and child psychiatrists to help them determine the cause of the problem.

That's fine as far as it goes. Certainly the "why" is extremely important in trying to cope with the situation.

But don't overlook the possible results of a long-standing habit of thumb-sucking.

Dr. Robert E. Hennessey of Clayton, Mo., recently reminded parents, in a television program, of the serious damage thumb-sucking can cause. Dr. Hennessey isn't a pediatrician or a child psychiatrist. He's a specialist in children's orthodontia, or corrective dentistry.

Although I didn't see the program, I understand Dr. Hennessey brought home a good point.

In the old days, he said, parents used to worry about buck teeth. Now they read articles saying that finger-sucking is just emotional insecurity or that thumb-suckers make better babies.

Many parents fail to realize it, yet the fact remains that thumb-sucking also is a dental problem.

The seemingly innocent habit of popping a thumb into the mouth can lead to abnormal breathing, malformation of the facial structure, possible speech defects and, of course, the emotional effects of an unattractive appearance.

Dr. Hennessey is able to produce several hundred photographs and models of children's mouths which were deformed directly as a result of prolonged finger or thumb-sucking.

Perhaps the automatic voluntary habit of thumb-sucking may not cause a pediatrician or psychiatrist too much concern, but problems can and do develop in many cases.

Dr. Hennessey suggests that the earlier corrective measures are taken, the better, although all cases do not require correction.

Up to the age of five, he says, such varied deterrents as sleeper sleeves and simple medication on the thumb have been successful.

Very often all a child needs is a little assistance of this nature, since the original cause of the thumb-sucking may long ago have given way to mere habit.

But the important thing to remember is that thumb-sucking is a dental problem, too.

Question and Answer

Mrs. G. N.: I have been told that I have Maniere's disease. Medicine and diet have helped, but can you tell me if there is any cure for this disease?

Answer: This is not an uncommon condition and as long as diet and medicine have been beneficial you should be very grateful for the results.

The costs of attending college are expected to rise for at least another decade, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The steel strike had been going on since July 15 and President Eisenhower and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell decided to do something about it, but in a very restrained way.

They hadn't taken sides. And they weren't taking sides now, although if the strike continues into late September the shortage of steel may create a national emergency.

The two men thought it might be worthwhile to give the public some facts and figures which various government agencies have gathered on steelworkers' earnings and productivity and on the steel industry's prices and profits.

The steel dispute really began early last May when negotiations started. But from the beginning both sides have dangled in one of the most lackadaisical negotiations in American history.

And even now, with the strike costing 300 million dollars a week in production and 70 million dollars in wages, neither side shows a pressing anxiety to reach a settlement.

So just how laying down some facts and figures on wages and profits might hasten an agreement isn't at all clear. But Eisenhower and Mitchell decided to go ahead and make the figures public.

Mitchell announced Tuesday the government's figures would be unveiled at a news conference Wednesday afternoon.

As each reporter walked in he got a 42 - page, brown - paper covered booklet with masses of statistics and charts. The information it contained had been gathered from government agencies and some of it even from the steel industry itself.

The booklet had an explanatory foreword by Mitchell. In it he said: "There are no conclusions drawn in this booklet. The responsibility for a settlement of the strike rests upon management and labor in the industry."

If the President or Mitchell had drawn conclusions from the figures they produced, they would have been putting the heat on one side or the other in the dispute to get off the high horse.

But without such official conclusions, the result had to be every man for himself in deciding what the figures meant. The reporters realized this, of course, but were glad to see the government figures anyway.

But then they read elsewhere in Mitchell's foreword this statement: "Management and labor already know these facts."

One gray-haired reporter, who has been around Washington a long time and has never been easily impressed by the pronouncements of government officials, read that sentence from Mitchell's foreword to some of the reporters around him.

He said it reminded him of a couple of vaudeville comedians he saw once. One of them was lying on the stage, supposedly wounded in battle. The other said: "Tell me your name and I'll tell your mother."

But the one lying on the stage said: "You don't have to tell my mother. She knows my name."

This may have been a sardonic view of the situation after Eisenhower and Mitchell went to the trouble of gathering into one booklet a mass of information on steel profits and wages.

But it did point up the central question:

If the steel union and the steel industry know all these facts and after almost four months haven't made any progress toward a settlement, why should anyone think making the facts public will have any effect on either side?

Since the government isn't willing to go beyond saying "come on, boys, and get together," there is a pretty good chance there will be a steel strike for quit a while yet.

Miracle Miner, Family Plan New Life in Alabama City

SPRINGHILL, N. S. (AP) — Levi Milley, one of the miracle miners who escaped last October's cave-in after almost a week underground, leaves next week with his family to start a new life in Phenix City, Ala.

It's a remarkable chain of events that takes the 47-year-old Milley, his wife Velda and their daughter Judy, 18, away from their home and life-long friends.

Last November the Milleys accepted an invitation to vacation in Georgia with other survivors of the mine disaster. While there, a picture of blonde Judy appeared in a Georgia newspaper.

James Argroves, 22, of Columbus, was so interested in the picture that he wrote Judy in Springhill.

Meanwhile, the Milleys decided to break with mining.

"We'd thought about it for a long time," said Milley, a miner for 29 years. "The cave-in was the last straw. I knew I'd never go down again."

They liked the idea of going to the United States. "We only thought of the north, perhaps Massachusetts." But the American Consulate told them they needed a sponsor to get in.

Judy mentioned the problem to her Georgia pen pal. He inserted a notice about the family's plight in the Columbus newspaper. A construction firm president in Phenix City—across the Chattahoochee River from Columbus, wrote to the consulate in Halifax offering to sponsor the family.

The construction man—who requested that his name be kept secret—also offered Milley a job in his firm, plus plane tickets to Alabama and a rent-free, furnished house.

The Milleys are excited about meeting the new friends they have never seen.

"Just imagine what wonderful people they must be," Mrs. Milley said. "They've given us a whole new life—and they've never even met us."

Prayers of the Captives

DANIEL PRAYED FOR HELP FROM GOD FOR HIMSELF AND HIS PEOPLE

Scripture—Daniel 1-6; 9.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

NEBUCHADNEZZAR conquered Jerusalem and he told the "master of the eunuchs" (or servants) to bring before him some of the Israelite children who were healthy and wise in knowledge and understanding "to stand in the king's palace" to teach the "learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans."—Daniel 1:1-4.

Among the children brought before him were four boys whose names were Daniel, Hananiah, Michael, and Azariah. Daniel was the one whose name we remember best, for he was the one whose prayers we are studying in today's lesson.

The children were to feast on the king's food so that at the time the king should summon them to stand before him, they would be in good health. Daniel, however, refused to eat the food, for he felt that it would contaminate him, as he was a Jew.

So Daniel refused to eat this rich and dainty food and suggested that they be fed on "pulse," which was a vegetable diet of peas, beans, etc. This diet agreed with them so that when they were brought before the king at the end of a certain period, he found them "ten times better than all the magicians and astrologers in all his realm."—Dan. 1:11-20.

MEMORY VERSE

"Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father."—James 1:17.

Now Nebuchadnezzar was troubled with dreams which he could not understand. His wise men could not interpret them for him, so he decreed that they should be slain.

David was grieved about this verdict and asked the king to give him time and he would interpret the dream. David went to his house and to his companions and prayed to God that he be given the secret of the dream.

He received it in a vision. Then Daniel said: "Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever; for wisdom and might are His. And He changeth the times and the seasons; he removeth kings, and setteth up kings; He giveth wisdom unto the wise, and knowledge to them that know understanding; He revealeth the deep and secret things: He knoweth what is in the darkness, and the light dwelleth with Him."—Daniel 2:1-22.

Daniel interpreted the dream to the king, who was so pleased that he "made Daniel a great man, and gave him many great gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon."—Dan. 2:48.

Then Nebuchadnezzar sinned greatly. He had a huge golden image made and commanded that all should worship it. Those who

to the den of lions and found Daniel unharmed in it.

Daniel said to the king: "My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, that they have not hurt me; and the king was glad.—Daniel 6:18-23.

"Then I (Daniel) prayed unto the Lord my God, and made my confession. We have sinned, and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly and have rebelled, even by departing from Thy precepts and from Thy judgments."—Daniel 9:4-5.

At the close of each day we should ask ourselves if we too have disobeyed God in our words and actions. Have we been hasty in our speech? Have we shown love to our fellow men and women in one way or another in spite of our endeavors. Jesus Christ told us to love even our enemies. That may be hard for us to do, but we can at least try.

There are men and women all over the world who are devoting their lives to helping others, like Dr. Albert Schweitzer. In our circumstances in life we may not be able to give our lives to the service of others, but we can at least do what we can to relieve the burdens of our friends, neighbors and strangers.

Prayers of the Captives

DANIEL PRAYED FOR HELP FROM GOD FOR HIMSELF AND HIS PEOPLE

Scripture—Daniel 1-6; 9.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
 NEBUCHADNEZZAR conquered Jerusalem and he told the "master of the eunuchs" (or servants) to bring before him some of the Israelite children who were healthy and wise in knowledge and understanding "to stand in the king's palace" to teach the "learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans."—Daniel 1:1-4.

Among the children brought before him were four boys whose names were Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. Daniel was the one whose name we remember best, for he was the one whose prayers we are studying in today's lesson.

The children were to feast on the king's food so that at the time the king should summon them to stand before him, they would be in good health. Daniel, however, refused to eat the food, for he felt that it would contaminate him, as he was a Jew.

So Daniel refused to eat this rich and dainty food and suggested that they be fed on "pulse," which was a vegetable diet of peas, beans, etc. This diet agreed with them so that when they were brought before the king at the end of a certain period, he found them "ten times better than all the magicians and astrologers in all his realm."—Dan. 1:11-20.

MEMORY VERSE
 "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father."—James 1:17.

Now Nebuchadnezzar was troubled with dreams which he could not understand. His wise men could not interpret them for him, so he decreed that they should be slain.

David was grieved about this verdict and asked the king to give him time and he would interpret the dream. David went to his house and to his companions and prayed to God that he be given the secret of the dream.

He received it in a vision. Then Daniel said: "Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever; for wisdom and might are His; And He changeth the times and the seasons; He removeth kings, and setteth up kings; He giveth wisdom unto the wise, and knowledge unto them that know understanding; He revealeth the deep and secret things; He knoweth what is in the darkness, and the light dwelleth with Him."—Daniel 2:1-22.

Daniel interpreted the dream to the king, who was so pleased that he "made Daniel a great man, and gave him many great gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon."—Dan. 2:48.

Then Nebuchadnezzar sinned greatly. He had a huge golden image made and commanded that all should worship it. Those who

to the den of lions and found Daniel unharmed in it.

Daniel said to the king: "My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, that they have not hurt me; and the king was glad."—Daniel 6:18-23.

"Then I (Daniel) prayed unto the Lord my God, and made my confession. We have sinned, and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly and have rebelled, even by departing from Thy precepts and from Thy judgments."—Daniel 9:4-5.

At the close of each day we should ask ourselves if we too have disobeyed God in our words and actions. Have we been hasty in our speech? Have we shown love to our fellow men and women? We are all prone to sin in one way or another in spite of our endeavors. Jesus Christ told us to love even our enemies. That may be hard for us to do, but we can at least try.

There are men and women all over the world who are devoting their lives to helping others, like Dr. Albert Schweitzer. In our circumstances in life we may not be able to give our lives to the service of others, but we can at least do what we can to relieve the burdens of our friends, neighbors and strangers.

Our Old Dad Drives Us Wild

DEAR ABBY: My Dad is in his seventies and when he drives a car he is a danger on the streets. His reflexes are poor. I am afraid to let my children ride with him. When he comes here for his vacation and wants to drive, what can I do?

His pride is tied up in his ability to drive. He thinks he is a good driver, but he is a threat.

DEAR ABBY: Life and limb (your children's as well as his own) are more important than his "pride." Tell your Dad that because you love him and want him around for many more years, you don't want him to drive. Get the rest of your family to back you up. This may seem cruel, but it is a lot kinder than letting him kill himself. (P.S. Nearly 37,000 people were killed and 3 million were injured on American highways in 1958).

DEAR ABBY: Should I send wedding invitations to people who live too far away to come to my wedding?

I'm afraid if I don't send them an invitation they'll feel hurt. I am also afraid if I send them an

Farmer Market Problem Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Extension of farmers' marketing operations was studied here today by nearly 100 top farmers participating in a two-day Ohio Farm Bureau Federation conference.

Sam Cashman, director of market research for the federation, said commodity committees explored almost every avenue of contract farming and trends in processing and retailing.

"Since some farm prices are bouncing up and down like yo-yos, while demand remains stagnant and production costs continue to rise, farmers are looking for additional sources of income," Cashman said.

Games were played in the afternoon.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Gentzel, Desi and Terrie, Mrs. Marilyn Weithoe, Patty, Terry and Bunny, Circleville; Mrs. Florence Valentine and Renae and Roddy Brobst, Stoutsville; Martha and Nadee Hinton, Gene Garrett, Ricky Kaiser, Karen and Bobby Brown, Connie Downs, Pamela Karr, Roger Valentine Jr., Penny and Mickey Stump, Mrs. Juanita Valentine and daughters, Diana Lynn, Recisa, Mylia and Robin, Tarlton.

Afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Norman, Ringgold.

Farmer Market Problem Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Extension of farmers' marketing operations was studied here today by nearly 100 top farmers participating in a two-day Ohio Farm Bureau Federation conference.

Sam Cashman, director of market research for the federation, said commodity committees explored almost every avenue of contract farming and trends in processing and retailing.

"Since some farm prices are bouncing up and down like yo-yos, while demand remains stagnant and production costs continue to rise, farmers are looking for additional sources of income," Cashman said.

GE Takes Babe Ruth Title By Defeating Kiwanis, 3-1

General Electric rolled to the Babe Ruth League Championship with a 3-1 playoff victory over Kiwanis at Ted Lewis Park yesterday.

The game was played to determine the winner of the league's second round. GE already had won the first and third rounds, then completed the championship picture with last night's decision.

GE pitcher Johnny Good led the way as he held the strong Kiwanis batsmen to just four hits. The combination third baseman-pitcher fanned eight and walked two.

Wendell Lovett, hurling for Kiwanis, was equally rugged as he allowed only five hits, fanned eight and walked six.

GE zoomed to a lead with two runs in the first inning. The winners added a clincher in the seventh with a single marker.

Kiwanis made a bid in the fourth when it tallied its lone run of the contest. The losers threatened throughout, but could not get vital runs across.

Jim Wellington got things started for GE in the first inning by leading off with a single. John Good got on by an error and slugging Ted Gulick sent both runners home with a single.

GE scored again in the seventh when John Good led off with a walk, swiped second and came home on Gulick's second single of the day. Gulick's two hits drove in all three GE runs.

Kiwanis got its run in the fourth when Bill Mount singled and Jerry

Smith reached first on an error. Mount was out attempting to steal third, but Charlie Spangler then stepped to the plate to send a double into center scoring Smith.

The game last night ended a long battle between the two teams which cracked heads all season in efforts to take the Babe Ruth Championship. The squads battled to ties for first place in the first and second rounds and GE managed to gain the third round outright.

GE proceeded to take the first round by winning a playoff game earlier this week, then came back last night to do a repeat to capture the second round and the title.

All three teams in the loop had their brighter moments during the season. Each squad was capable of defeating its opponents and all three teams had their share of solid players.

Jets Tripped By Marlins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Remember crowd pleaser Jack Phillips, the guy who rewarded fans turning out for "Jack Phillips Night" with a grand slam homer?

Well, Jack's done it again.

The Buffalo infielder stroked his second bases-loaded home run in three nights, driving in the winning run as the Bisons upped their league lead to 7½ games with a 9-6 victory over Toronto Thursday night.

Havana and Columbus, tied for the runner-up spot, both lost. The Sugar Kings bowed to Richmond 3-2 and the Jets were four-hit by Jim Archer in a 2-0 Miami triumph. Rochester defeated Montreal 3-2 in the league's other game.

Southpaw Archer won the fastest game ever played in Miami Stadium, shutting out the Jets in 1 hour, 37 minutes. Archer, now 13-8, got the only run he needed on Woody Smith's 70th RBI single in the fourth inning.

Demon Hanover, Famed Trotter, Races No More

Demon Hanover, sire of George Van Camp's famous trotter Steam-in' Demon, was buried yesterday at Walnut Hill farm near Lexington, Ky.

Demon Hanover was a former winner of the famed Hambletonian and known widely as a great trotting stallion.

The 14-year-old stallion who sold two years ago for $500,000, died Tuesday at the farm. Death was attributed to a blood clot.

John R. Gaines headed a syndicate which bought the horse in 1957 from Robert Critchfield of Wooster, Ohio, for a half million dollars, the highest price ever paid for a trotter.

DEMON Hanover brought only $2,600 when sold 13 years ago as a yearling.

After a successful career in racing, Demon Hanover was "turned to stud."

Herald Hawks Get Majors Title with 9-3 Coke Victory

The Circleville Herald wrapped up the Little League Majors crown with a 9-3 decision over a battling Coca-Cola team last night at Ted Lewis Park.

It was the second straight series win for The Herald Hawks who combined some tight pitching with solid hitting to take the coveted championship. The Hawks won the first series game, 9-1, earlier in the week and then repeated last night.

The pitching of Jim Strous and the strong hitting of Tommy Copeland, Jim Wells, Jim Wood and David Bass and company were the

Adios Colts Favored in $112,494 Pace

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP)—Del Miller, driving Adios Day, may not win the $112,494 Messenger Stakes tonight at Roosevelt Raceway. But the harness wizard from Meadowlands, Pa., will have plenty to say about the world's richest race for 3-year-old pacers.

Four sons of the famed stallion, Adios, are top choices in the one mile event.

The choice at 8 to 5 is Adios Butler, winner of three straight and owned by Paige H. West, Snow Hill, Md., and Angelo Pelillo, Scarsdale, N. Y.

In addition to Adios Butler and Adios Day, the other sons of Adios are Adios Oregon and Meadow Al.

Adios Oregon is second choice at 5-2, Meadow Al is next at 6-1. Adios Day, starting from the No. 9 post, is 12-1. Clint Hodgins drives Adios Butler, Tom Crank reins Adios Oregon, and Joe O'Brien has Meadow Al.

Miller drove Meadowlands, the 1957 winner, and trained O'Brien Hanover, who won last year.

Adios Butler, a $6,000 yearling bargain, upset Adios Oregon in the $64,457 Cane Pace July 16 at Yonkers Raceway. The Messenger is the second of the pacing triple crown, and a victory for Adios Butler would make him a big favorite to complete the grand slam in the $72,000 Little Brown Jug Sept. 24 at Delaware, Ohio.

needed factors for the victory. Coke made it a struggle through the efforts of Pitcher Skip Lutz and the hitting of Steve Dade.

Strous spun a six-hitter, walking six and fanning two. His hitting support came on homers by Copeland and Wood, a double by Wells and two singles each by Bass and Bill Weldon. Lutz fanned seven and walked two. Dade collected two doubles.

THE HERALD, making an early bid for the championship, collected three runs in the first, three in the third, two in the fifth and one in the sixth. Coca-Cola registered single markers in the second, third and sixth frames.

The Herald's first inning production came on two singles, two errors and a fielder's choice. The one-baggers were poked by Bass and Bob Purcell. Three more runs came across in the third on an error, Wells' double, a wild pitch and a fielder's choice.

Copeland and Wood smacked back-to-back homers in the fifth for two more runs. The final tally came in the sixth on singles by Bass and Copeland.

Coke picked up a run in the second on a double by Steve Dade and a single by Green.

Another marker crossed in the third when Chet Iery and Howard Dade connected for one-baggers. The losers' final tally was in the sixth when George Hill singled, Dade doubled and walks were issued to Green and Smith.

The championship series ended a close rivalry between the two teams which prevailed all year. Both paced their league all year and battled down to the wire in the title series this week.

Chisox See Lead Clipped; They Sorely Miss Pierce

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Somebody ask how much the Chicago White Sox would miss Billy Pierce? So far, the injured left-hander has missed one starting assignment and their American League lead is down to 2½ games, almost cut in half.

The White Sox led by 4½ games, the biggest bulge of the year in the AL, when Pierce was shelved Monday for from five to eight days to nurse his ailing hip. Uninjured, Pierce would have pitched either Wednesday or Thursday against Baltimore.

Without him, the Sox dropped both games while second place Cleveland took two from Washington.

The Orioles counted 10 runs in the two games, beating Barry Latman 7-6 Thursday for the White Sox' fourth defeat in the last five games.

Cleveland continued its rebound from a four-game slump by belting Washington 6-1 behind Jim (Mudcat) Grant.

Detroit walloped the Yankees 14-2, and Boston overcame three home runs by Kansas City's Bob Cerv for an 11-10 decision over the A's.

The Orioles tagged Latman (5-5) and six relievers for 13 hits.

Rookie Jim McNamany drove in three runs for the White Sox, who had 10 hits and made it close with two runs in the seventh off Billy Loes after winner Hoyt Wilhelm (12-8) was lifted for a pinch hitter.

Two home runs did it for the Indians. Ed FitzGerald smacked his first of the year and Woody Held then cracked a 1-1 tie with a two-run shot, his 23rd, in the seventh against loser Pet Ramos (11-15). Grant (8-5) lost his shut-out in the sixth on a walk, sacrifice and Bob Allison's double.

Milt Bolling, who hammered two home runs, and Gail Harris

each drove in six runs for the Tigers. Jim Bunning (12-10) beat the Yankees for the first time this season with a five-hitter. Gary Blaylock lost it in his first AL decision.

Rookie Earl Wilson, driving in three runs with a single and a double, won his first major league decision as the third of five Red Sox pitchers. Tom Sturdivant (1-5) was the loser for the A's.

Warren Spahn couldn't do it.

Milwaukee's 38-year-old southpaw ace, called on for his third start and fourth appearance in 10 days, finally was nailed by Sad Sam Jones and San Francisco's Wonderous Willie Thursday night as the Giants beat the Braves 5-3.

It was Spahn's third defeat in his last four decisions and once again kept him from pairing with Lew Burdette (who beat the Giants 5-2 Wednesday) for the one-two pitching punch that had the Braves in command through the first half of the season.

The Giants retained their two-game National League lead over Los Angeles while skidding the third place Braves four games behind again.

It was Jones, beating Milwaukee for the fifth time against two losses (both to Spahn), and the Willies—Mays, McCovey—who did it.

McCovey had three hits and drove in three runs, putting it away with his seventh homer after Mays had lined his third single with two out in the ninth.

Los Angeles kept the pace, beating Cincinnati 8-5.

Pittsburgh defeated St. Louis 3-1. The Chicago Cubs split a twi-

Giants Returning With Full Power

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—There aren't too many people who have much sympathy for New York Giants football Coach Jim Lee Howell as he prepares his Eastern Division National Football League titleholders for an exhibition game against the world champion Baltimore Colts tonight.

Why this unsympathetic feeling? It seems that Howell has five quarterbacks on his squad, an all-pro halfback named Frank Gifford who also is dabbling as one of the signal-callers and a collection of behemoths that man the defensive platoon.

But Howell isn't buying the pitch despite the return of almost all of the team that won the Eastern Division crown in a playoff with the Cleveland Browns, then lost 23-17 in overtime to the Colts for the NFL title.

"Sure, we have depth at some positions, notably quarterback," Howell conceded, "But we are shallow at other spots like offensive guard, defensive end and defensive halfback. Unless we can plug some of these gaps, injuries could put us in a lot of trouble."

The 11-year veteran Charley Conerly leads the quarterback candidates. But the Giants also have the highly-touted George Shaw, obtained from the Colts last month, their No. 1 draft choice, Lee Grosscup from Utah, holdover Don Heinrich and Gifford.

Off-season trades brought defensive halfback Dick Lynch from the Washington Redskins; guard Darrell Dess from the Pittsburgh Steelers and linebacker Tom Scott from Philadelphia.

The Giants drafted Rice All America end Buddy Dial, who should join veterans Kyle Rote and Bob Schnelker as top flankmen.

Akron Open Sees Par Take Beating

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A sub-par scramble to survive the half-year cutoff was on today as the $22,000 Rubber City Open Golf Tournament wheeled into its second round.

Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., the defending champion and holder of the Masters title, and the National Open champion Bill Casper Jr. of Apple Valley, Calif., shot four-under-par 67s.

Herald Hawks Get Majors Title with 9-3 Coke Victory

The Circleville Herald wrapped up the Little League Majors crown with a 9-3 decision over a battling Coca-Cola team last night at Ted Lewis Park.

It was the second straight series win for The Herald Hawks who combined some tight pitching with solid hitting to take the coveted championship. The Hawks won the first series game, 9-1, earlier in the week and then repeated last night.

The pitching of Jim Strous and the strong hitting of Tommy Copeland, Jim Wells, Jim Wood and David Bass and company were the needed factors for the victory. Coke made it a struggle through the efforts of Pitcher Skip Lutz and the hitting of Steve Dade.

Strous spun a six-hitter, walking six and fanning two. His hitting support came on homers by Copeland and Wood, a double by Wells and two singles each by Bass and Bill Weldon. Lutz fanned seven and walked two. Dade collected two doubles.

Adios Colts Favored in $112,494 Pace

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP)—Del Miller, driving Adios Day, may not win the $112,494 Messenger Stakes tonight at Roosevelt Raceway. But the harness wizard from Meadowlands, Pa., will have plenty to say about the world's richest race for 3-year-old pacers.

Four sons of the famed stallion, Adios, are top choices in the one mile event.

The choice at 8 to 5 is Adios Butler, winner of three straight and owned by Paige H. West, Snow Hill, Md., and Angelo Pelillo, Scarsdale, N. Y.

In addition to Adios Butler and Adios Day, the other sons of Adios are Adios Oregon and Meadow Al.

Adios Oregon is second choice at 5-2. Meadow Al is next at 6-1. Adios Day, starting from the 9 post, is 12-1. Clint Hodgins drives Adios Butler, Tom Crank reins Adios Oregon, and Joe O'Brien has Meadow Al.

Miller drove Meadow Lands, the 1957 winner, and trained O'Brien Hanover, who won last year.

Adios Butler, a $6,000 yearling bargain, upset Adios Oregon in the $64,457 Cane Pace July 16 at Yonkers Raceway. The Messenger is the second of the pacing triple crown, and a victory for Adios Butler would make him a big favorite to complete the grand slam in the $72,000 Little Brown Jug Sept. 24 at Delaware, Ohio.

THE HERALD, making an early bid for the championship, collected three runs in the first, three in the third, two in the fifth and one in the sixth. Coca-Cola registered single markers in the second, third and sixth frames.

The Herald's first inning production came on two singles, two errors and a fielder's choice. The one-baggers were poked by Bass and Bob Purcell. Three more runs came across in the third on an error, Wells' double, a wild pitch and a fielder's choice.

Copeland and Wood smacked back-to-back homers in the fifth for two more runs. The final tally came in the sixth on singles by Bass and Copeland.

Coke picked up a run in the second on a double by Steve Dade and a single by Green. Another marker crossed in the third when Chet Jery and Howard Dade connected for one-baggers. The losers' final tally was in the sixth when George Hill singled, Dade doubled and walks were issued to Green and Smith.

The championship series ended a close rivalry between the two teams which prevailed all year. Both paced their league all year and battled down to the wire in the title series this week.

Copeland and Wood smacked back-to-back homers in the fifth for two more runs. The final tally came in the sixth on singles by Bass and Copeland.

Coke picked up a run in the second on a double by Steve Dade and a single by Green. Another marker crossed in the third when Chet Iery and Howard Dade connected for one-baggers. The losers' final tally was

Chisox See Lead Clipped; They Sorely Miss Pierce

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Somebody ask how much the Chicago White Sox would miss Billy Pierce? So far, the injured left-hander has missed one starting assignment and their American League lead is down to 2 1/2 games, almost cut in half.

The White Sox led by 4 1/2 games, the biggest bulge of the year in the AL, when Pierce was shelved Monday for from five to eight days to nurse his ailing hip. Uninjured, Pierce would have pitched either Wednesday or Thursday against Baltimore. Without him, the Sox dropped both games while second place Cleveland took two from Washington.

The Orioles counted 10 runs in the two games, beating Barry Latman 7-6 Thursday for the White Sox' fourth defeat in the last five games.

Cleveland continued its rebound from a four-game slump by belting Washington 6-1 behind Jim (Mudcat) Grant.

Detroit walloped the Yankees 14-2, and Boston overcame three home runs by Kansas City's Bob Cerv for an 11-10 decision over the A's.

The Orioles tagged Latman (5-5) and six relievers for 13 hits.

Rookie Jim McAnany drove in three runs for the White Sox, who had 10 hits and made it close with two runs in the seventh off Billy Loes after winner Hoyt Wilhelm (12-8) was lifted for a pinch hitter.

Two home runs did it for the Indians. Ed Fitzgerald smacked his first of the year and Woody Held then cracked a 1-1 tie with a two-run shot, his 23rd, in the seventh against loser Pet Ramos (11-15). Grant (8-5) lost his shut-out in the sixth on a walk, sacrifice and Bob Allison's double.

Milt Bolling, who hammered two home runs, and Gail Harris

each drove in six runs for the Tigers. Jim Bunning (12-10) beat the Yankees for the first time this season with a five-hitter. Gary Blaylock lost it in his first AL decision.

Rookie Earl Wilson, driving in three runs with a single and a double, won his first major league decision as the third of five Red Sox pitchers. Tom Sturdivant (1-5) was the loser for the A's.

Warren Spahn couldn't do it. Milwaukee's 38-year-old southpaw ace, called on for his third start and fourth appearance in 10 days, finally was nailed by Sad Sam Jones and San Francisco's Wonderous Willies Thursday night as the Giants beat the Braves 5-3.

It was Spahn's third defeat in his last four decisions and once again kept him from pairing with Lew Burdette (who beat the Giants 5-2 Wednesday) for the one-two pitching punch that had the Braves in command through the first half of the season.

The Giants retained their two-game National League lead over Los Angeles while skidding the third place Braves four games behind again.

It was Jones, beating Milwaukee for the fifth time against two losses (both to Spahn), and the Willies—Mays, McCovey—who did it.

McCovey had three hits and drove in three runs, putting it away with his seventh homer after Mays had lined his third single with two out in the ninth.

Los Angeles kept the pace, beating Cincinnati 8-5.

Pittsburgh defeated St. Louis 3-1. The Chicago Cubs split a twing at Philadelphia, beating the Phils 6-4 after losing 8-5 in the replay of Wednesday's 12-inning tie.

Giants Returning With Full Power

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — There aren't too many people who have much sympathy for New York Giants football Coach Jim Lee Howell as he prepares his Eastern Division National Football League titleholders for an exhibition game against the world champion Baltimore Colts tonight.

Why this unsympathetic feeling? It seems that Howell has five quarterbacks on his squad, an all-pro halfback named Frank Gifford who also is dabbling as one of the signal-callers and a collection of behemoths that man the defensive platoon.

But Howell isn't buying the pitch despite the return of almost all of the team that won the Eastern Division crown in a playoff with the Cleveland Browns, then lost 23-17 in overtime to the Colts for the NFL title.

"Sure, we have depth at some positions, notably quarterback," Howell conceded. "But we are shallow at other spots like offensive guard, defensive end and defensive halfback. Unless we can plug some of these gaps, injuries could put us in a lot of trouble."

The 11-year veteran Charley Conerly leads the quarterback candidates. But the Giants also have the highly-touted George Shaw, obtained from the Colts last month, their No. 1 draft choice, Lee Grosscup from Utah, holdover Don Heinrich and Gifford.

Off-season trades brought defensive halfback Dick Lynch from the Washington Redskins; guard Darrell Dess from the Pittsburgh Steelers and linebacker Tom Scott from Philadelphia.

The Giants drafted Rice All America end Buddy Dial, who should join veterans Kyle Rote and Bob Schnelker as top flank-men.

Akron Open Sees Par Take Beating

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A sub-par scramble to survive the halfway cutoff was on today as the $22,000 Rubber City Open Golf Tournament wheeled into its second round.

Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., the defending champion and holder of the Masters title, and the National Open champion Bill Casper Jr. of Apple Valley, Calif., shot four-under-par 67s.

But their sterling performances left them in a six-way deadlock for fourth place. Out front with 66s were 40-year-old Ted Frott of Sarasota, Fla.; 29-year-old Arnold Palmer of Lioniger, Pa.; and 28-year-old Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla.

Ohio Stream Fishing Said Poor, but Better in Lakes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—As is usual at this time of year, stream fishermen are getting the short end of things.

The Ohio Wildlife Division reports generally poor stream fishing with stream conditions ranging from clear and normal to low and muddy. Most Ohio lakes, however, are clear, but only fair lake fishing results are reported.

Conditions by areas as reported by the division:

NORTHWEST—Many of the streams are in generally poor fishing condition and few fish are being taken. Lake St. Marys is clear and normal as are East Harbor, Ottawa County and Oxbow Lake, Defiance County. Some fish are being taken.

NORTHEAST—Such well-known lakes as Pleasant Hill and Charles Mill, Ashland County; Berlin and Milton, Mahoning County; Portage Lakes, Summit County, and Mogadore, Portage County are in good condition with few fish being taken. Best fishing results are reported from Guilford and Zeppernick lakes, Columbiana County, and Lake Milton, Mahoning County. Stream fishing has been generally poor.

EAST CENTRAL & SOUTHEAST—Scattered reports indicate fishing is only poor to fair although many of the lakes and streams are in fair to good condition. Fishing pressure is extremely low.

CENTRAL & SOUTH—Delaware and Hoover reservoirs, Delaware County; Rocky Fork Lake, Highland County; Buckeye Lake, Fairfield County, and Jackson Lake, Jackson County, are providing fair fishing. Most streams in the central part of the district are in fair to good fishing condition with most others poor.

SOUTHWEST—Most streams are fair to good but few fish are being caught. Fair lake fishing is found in Grant, Brown County; Kiser, Champaign County, and Acton, Preble County.

Ohio Red Chief To Press His 'Socialism'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Anthony Krehmerek of Cleveland, chairman of the Communist Party in Ohio, says he will continue his efforts to bring socialistic principles to the government of this country "by orderly process."

Charges of conspiring to teach and advocate overthrow of the U. S. Government by force were dropped Wednesday in U. S. District Court against Krehmerek and five others. They had been convicted three years ago of violating the Smith Act.

The Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati, however, reversed the decision and ordered a retrial. U. S. District Attorney Russell E. Ake said he dropped the charges reluctantly because "we can't meet the requirements set down by the Supreme Court in the Yates case."

In that case the high court held the government must prove in Smith Act prosecutions that persons actively are attempting to overthrow the government. Teaching and advocating overthrow is not sufficient for prosecution, the court ruled.

Krehmerek, 61, said Wednesday night that, while the Communist Party of Ohio, does not maintain an office, he has been devoting all his time to his post as chairman. "I have a firm belief," he said, "in socialistic principles. I also believe they can be brought about by orderly process."

The others freed Wednesday were Frank Hashmall, 39, Bronx, N. Y., former youth director of the Ohio section of the party; George Watt, 49, also of the Bronx, once the party's national labor secretary; Mrs. Lucille Bethencourt, 31, Chicago, former Lorain party leader; and Joseph Brandt, the party's trade union director.

Kindergartens Enroll 200

Four kindergarten classes will handle the more than 200 preschool pupils who will enter the first grade in the fall of 1960 in the City school system.

A total of 196 children registered for the Circleville school system kindergarten classes on May 26, according to Superintendent George A. Hartman.

Walter B. Denman, city school board officer, made an enumeration check after the registration and found an average of four children a day who didn't bother to register for kindergarten but who were planning on attending.

Hartman estimated that an additional 25 to 30 children will enter kindergarten this fall who didn't register.

THE CITY Board of Education obtained a room at the First Methodist Church, E. Main St., to hold the additional kindergarten class.

Last year there were only three kindergarten classes, but the additional enrollment forced school officials to add the fourth room.

The necessity of utilizing outside space to conduct school classes is an example of the overcrowdedness of the city school system, according to Hartman.

Gladys Workman Haw-Haws In Face of All Calamities

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Laughter is the best medicine for whatever ails you, says Gladys Workman, who has been making jokes out of calamities all her life.

A broken back? Merely amusing. Temporary blindness and deafness? Nothing to cry about. A broken leg? Exciting. Cuts, bruises, abrasions and fractured bones? Hilarious.

Out in Oregon's Umpqua River Valley Gladys' hearty laughter can be heard all the way up and down the 23-party line, and recently it's been heard by TV network coast to coast, following publication of her best-seller, "Only When I Laugh."

Gladys took to the Oregon woods with her husband, "Pappy," when the doctors gave him only a few months to live. If that was the case, said she, he might as well enjoy what life was left, and get in some good fishing and hunting.

Now, 12 years later, "P-p-py" is hale and hearty, raising daffodils and eating bear steaks, while Gladys has brought fame to the valley.

Today, despite all the disasters that have beset her since childhood, Mrs. Workman is the picture of health, tall, vital, white-haired and breezy and having the time of her life.

"I've got to get back to the Umpqua for our annual barbecue," she said, during a hectic book-launching visit to New York. "Just before I left I rounded up the elk, bear, venison and salmon we always serve. The girl at the packing house got on the party line and said, 'Gladys needs bear,' and within an hour I had four bear, a dozen elk and offers of all the venison and salmon we could use. It's a great institution, that party line. The dial phone will never replace it."

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Housewives who shop the specials will serve bacon for breakfast and chuck roast or turkey for dinner, judging by offerings at the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores this weekend.

Prices as low as 59 cents a pound for bacon reflect generally lower pork prices in recent weeks in the wake of a big pig crop. Chuck, of course, is a staple of bargain hunters, while turkeys again are plentiful this year.

Eggs to go with that breakfast bacon may be on the small side, however, for little eggs are a big bargain at this time of year. Spring chickens are starting their production with small but high quality eggs, increasing the supply of pullet eggs, while mature hens reduce their output of larger eggs due to hot weather.

Egg prices are marked up 2 cents or so a dozen in a few places, but the increases are mostly on the medium and large sizes, further accentuating the spread in prices and emphasizing the bargains in small sizes.

Butter also is a bit more expensive in some areas.

Fruits and vegetables offer a wide variety of bargains again this week.

P&G Earnings Hit 122-Year Record

CINCINNATI (AP)—Sales and earnings of Procter & Gamble Co. during the year ended June 30 were the best in the company's 122-year history, stockholders were told today.

Chairman R. R. Deupree and President Howard Morgens reported that profit rose 11.6 per cent above the previous year on a sales boost of about 5 1/2 per cent. Net income totaled $81,697,965, equal to $3.96 a share, on sales of $1,368,532,426, compared with $73,196,618, equal to $3.56 a share, on $1,295,163,269.

Vote Slate At Kingston Is Invalid

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has declared a ticket of candidates for Kingston village offices to be insufficient and invalid, according to a letter dated Wednesday to the Ross County Board of Elections.

In his decision, Brown stated the candidates failed to affix their signatures in the place provided in the affidavit.

Since both slates of candidates are non-partisan, political parties are not involved.

When the Board of Elections considered the matter, the vote resulted in a tie, and the opinion of the Secretary of State was requested.

The slate which was declared void includes: Harry Sims, for mayor; Preston Beeman, Dwight H. Williams, Paul M. Priest Sr., Harry Large, Glenn Congrove, for Council; and Thomas Rainey and Russell F. Wolfe, for Board of Public Affairs.

In the clear are candidates on the following ticket: M. A. Shepard, for mayor; Mrs. Arlene Hood, Miss Gertrude Senff, Dwight Davis, Marvin Mitchell, Lawrence Kerns, John Thomas, for council; Miss Mildred Holterman and Mrs. Wanda Raney, Board of Public Affairs.

Van Wert Girl Promotes GOP At Moscow Rally

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Van Wert, Ohio, girl, who was struck by a guard at the recent communist-run youth rally at Vienna says she was promoting the Republican Party while at the rally.

"I was infiltrating the American group," said Miss Anita Tanner, 20. She is a summer worker at the national Republican committee.

She said she suspected perhaps 90 people in the 350-member U. S. Delegation to the festival of being at least pro-communist.

The vast majority of the Americans, she said, were Democrats. Miss Tanner related at a news conference Wednesday that when she told the delegation of the Republican victories in Hawaii they nearly threw her out.

The incident with the guard came as she was handing out material for the Department of Agriculture.

Sulphuric Acid Used In Attack on Solon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police say tests show it was sulphuric acid which was squirted at Rep. Frank Thompson (D-NJ) as he drove to his office Wednesday.

Thompson had reported that a man in a truck squirted the liquid from a syringe when he stopped his car at a traffic light. The fluid burned a hole in his shirt and left a slight burn on his arm.

Thompson dismissed the incident as the work of a crank and said he thought it was unrelated to his work on labor legislation.

Cocky Knifer To Die Today For Slayings

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—After running most of his life, Stephen Nash was scheduled to walk to his death today in the San Quentin prison gas chamber. The execution was set for 10 a. m. PDT.

The gaunt, hypnotic-eyed knifer spent the last two of his 36 years of life in isolation on death row— isolated because of his fellow murderers sickened of his boast that he killed at least 11 men and boys.

He never had a visitor, and there was no one to claim his body.

Arrested on Los Angeles' skid road in 1956 when police found a bloody knife in his pocket, Nash admitted killing 10-year-old Larry Rice under a Santa Monica pier and John Berg, 26, in Berg's Long Beach apartment.

Convicted of those two murders, he confessed many others. Three, in San Francisco, Sacramento and Richmond, Calif., were verified by police. They believed the others, too, but found no proof.

Nash relished describing the way his victims died, just as he relished his last dinner of steak and pie.

When Superior Judge H. Burton Noble of Los Angeles sentenced Nash to die, he called the lanky, toothless stabber "the most evil person who ever appeared in my court." Nash merely smiled, in the same way he did when he refused spiritual comfort on his last day of life.

His wife, he admits, was unhappy when he traded America's leading highest-priced car for Rambler. Now, he writes:

"SHE REFUSES TO DRIVE HER OWN BIG CAR"

"We have always been a two-car family (both the leading high-priced make). Suddenly, it occurred to me, had I operated my business in the manner that I have purchased and maintained these cars, I would have been bankrupt a long time ago. My wife was quite unhappy when I traded one for a Rambler. Now she refuses to drive her own big car. She says, and I quote her... 'It (Rambler) is so easy to handle... responds in traffic'."

With other cars even bigger and costlier for $9, now thousands more each week switch to Rambler. Saves you more than ever on first cost, on gas. Turns easier, parks anywhere. "You get just what you pay for!"

How many times have you heard this statement? More than likely thousands — and it is so true.

When you buy a 'price' piece of goods, there is a reason for it. You can be sure, unless it is a genuine sale, that somewhere along the line, 'quality' was sacrificed for 'price'!

In building materials, a few pennies saved on a 'price' material, can mean costly replacement in later years. So actually the purchase of quality goods in the first place would mean savings in the long run. There is no substitute for 'quality'!

Van Wert Girl Promotes GOP At Moscow Rally

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Van Wert, Ohio, girl, who was struck by a guard at the recent communist-run youth rally at Vienna says she was promoting the Republican Party while at the rally.

"I was infiltrating the American group," said Miss Anita Tanner, 20. She is a summer worker at the National Republican committee.

She said she suspected perhaps 90 people in the 350-member U. S. Delegation to the festival of being at least pro-communist.

The vast majority of the Americans, she said, were Democrats.

Miss Tanner related at a news conference Wednesday that when she told the delegation of the Republican victories in Hawaii they nearly threw her out.

The incident with the guard came as she was handing out material for the Department of Agriculture.

In securing permission to do this Boyd wrote to Rowland Bishop, manager of the Ohio State Fair. In return Bishop wrote Boyd expressing his appreciation and asked him to be on hand August 31 to present it.

The letter says: "Since you have been such a great inspiration to so many people, we thought Monday, August 31, would be the opportune time for you to present Roy with your gift, as he is putting on a special performance at 10 a. m. for the crippled children from all over the state, who will be our guests on that day."

Boyd will be very happy to show it to the public if you care to stop in his store on Long St. in Ashville anytime this week. It will be well worth your time.

Sulphuric Acid Used In Attack on Solon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police say tests show it was sulphuric acid which was squirted at Rep. Frank Thompson (D-NJ) as he drove to his office Wednesday.

Thompson had reported that a man in a truck squirted the liquid from a syringe when he stopped his car at a traffic light. The fluid burned a hole in his shirt and left a slight burn on his arm.

Thompson dismissed the incident as the work of a crank and said he thought it was unrelated to his work on labor legislation.

Cocky Knifer To Die Today For Slayings

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—After running most of his life, Stephen Nash was scheduled to walk to his death today in the San Quentin prison gas chamber.

The execution was set for 10 a. m. PDT.

The gaunt, hypnotic-eyed knifer spent the last two of his 36 years of life in isolation on death row— isolated because of his fellow murderers sickened of his boast that he killed at least 11 men and boys.

He never had a visitor, and there was no one to claim his body.

Arrested on Los Angeles' skid road in 1956 when police found a bloody knife in his pocket, Nash admitted killing 10-year-old Larry Rice under a Santa Monica pier and John Berg, 26, in Berg's Long Beach apartment.

Convicted of those two murders, he confessed many others. Three, in San Francisco, Sacramento and Richmond, Calif., were verified by police. They believed the others, too, but found no proof.

Nash relished describing the way his victims died, just as he relished his last dinner of steak and pie.

When Superior Judge H. Burton Noble of Los Angeles sentenced Nash to die, he called the lanky, toothless stabber "the most evil person who ever appeared in my court." Nash merely smiled, in the same way he did when he refused spiritual comfort on his last day of life.

Suddenly, it occurred to me, had I operated my business in the manner that I have purchased and maintained these cars, I would have been bankrupt a long time ago. My wife was quite unhappy when I traded one for a Rambler. Now she refuses to drive her own big car. She says, and I quote her... 'It (Rambler) is so easy to handle... responds in traffic'."

"You get just what you pay for!"

How many times have you heard this statement? More than likely thousands — and it is so true.

When you buy a 'price' piece of goods, there is a reason for it. You can be sure, unless it is a genuine sale, that somewhere along the line, 'quality' was sacrificed for 'price'!

In building materials, a few pennies saved on a 'price' material, can mean costly replacement in later years. So actually the purchase of quality goods in the first place would mean savings in the long run. There is no substitute for 'quality'!
